Invocation by the Senate Chaplain.

His Excellency, Forrest Anderson, then appeared and was escorted to the rostrum. After being presented to the assembly by the President of the Senate, he delivered his address:

The history of Montana is an epic of hard work, determination and courage.

It is the story of a people who settled an awesome wilderness and built a great progressive state.

It is a story of success and failure and good and bad times.

Today, we stand at the beginning of another decade in the history of Montana.

These are uncertain times.

The people of Montana are troubled by a collection of serious problems.

Yet I believe they are hopeful we can realize some of the great potentials of this state.

Montana is at an important juncture in its history.

Old answers are not sufficient to new questions.

We must seek a new direction.

The voters of this state spoke at the polls last November.

They want action.

They want change.

Referendums to call a constitutional convention and implement reorganization of the executive branch passed by overwhelming margins.

This, in my opinion, is testimony Montanans want something done.

It indicates that the people of this state have experienced too many failed hopes and too few accomplishments.

Montana cannot forever be the land of tomorrow.

Our people cannot live endlessly on expectations.

We must begin today the work that was never done.

This nation is experiencing an economic recession.

Unemployment is at the highest rate since 1963. Real economic growth has declined. And the most severe inflationary spiral in two decades continues upward.

The effects of these conditions are particularly acute on our state government.

Anticipated revenue growth from established sources has not been realized because of unemployment, the decline of our historic industries, and the lack of alternative development.

At the same time, inflation has drastically increased the costs of providing state government services.

The imbalance created by static revenue growth and the increasing cost of government is the immutable dilemma we face.

In times of diminishing income growth, government—like individual citizens—must judiciously control expenditures.

This is such a time.

It is a time for economic realism . . . a time to do what is possible without adding unreasonable taxes to the economic difficulties already affecting the people of this state.

Because this must be done, I am proposing what I believe is a reasonable minimum budget.

It is not an austerity program.

It is a strategy for stability during a period of economic uncertainty.

To increase the effect of our limited revenues, we must initiate a policy of priority funding.

Appropriation responses must be directed toward meeting the most immediate needs and solving the most serious problems of Montana and her people.

I believe the people should determine state priorities.

In Montana, the people have spoken.

Montanans have indicated that they want more efficient government, quality education and protection of the environment.

We must now act on these priorities.

The people have given us an irrevokable mandate to reorganize the executive branch of state government.

This mandate cannot be ignored.

And reorganization should not be delayed by those seeking favored status for particular interest groups.

We have the responsibility to reorganize the executive branch.

More importantly, we have the opportunity to establish responsive and efficient government in Montana.

The initial priorities of this program should be reorganization of the Department of Administration and creation of an effective Department of Revenue. State government must have the capability to properly collect and administer revenue. These are the basic management tools which we must utilize to implement a sound reorganization program.

Good government is good management.

Unfortunately, this concept has rarely been applied in Montana.

In the past, Montana's fiscal policy has been to tax new sources of revenue to support ineffective administration.

It is time for a change.

I believe that before we tax new sources of revenue, we should improve our administrative capabilities to achieve better performance from existing revenue sources.

We cannot expect the people of Montana to subsidize inefficiency forever.

During the past two years, we have successfully applied improved management techniques to the administration of some state agencies.

The results have been encouraging.

But we can do better.

A sound executive reorganization program will allow us to apply good management to the operation of all state agencies.

If we are successful, state government will no longer be paralyzed by archaic administrative procedures.

It will no longer be a mysterious process that wastes too much and takes too long.

Revenue will be expended according to legislative intent.

We will know where the money is going and what it is going for.

A reorganized government will be better able to mobilize our resources to deal with the problems of our people.

Montana must have economic development.

Present unemployment, the decline in personal income and lack of opportunities for our people are unacceptable.

We must become more aggressive in seeking decent employment for Montanans.

We must be able to attract and control stable new industry.

A modern, reorganized government will give Montana a decided advantage in promoting the development of this state and the economic security of its people.

Education is the future happening today.

In Montana, a good education is more than an opportunity. It has become a right.

The people of this state have faithfully supported education throughout the years.

We have excellent primary and secondary schools, fine colleges and universities and one of the best vocational-technical education programs in the northwest.

This educational system is a tribute to Montanans and their faith in the young and belief in the future.

Taxes to support education are heavy, particularly in this inflationary period. But this is not the time to turn away from tomorrow.

I propose that we increase appropriations for education by 28 million dollars in the next biennium. This total will adequately fund the foundation program, university system, vocational-technical education and our long-range building requirements.

Education, however, is not beyond question. I recommend that improved administration and budget controls be applied to all phases of Montana's vast educational system. We must begin to measure the return we are getting at all educational levels.

Our greatest natural resource is our well-educated and talented young people.

Unfortunately, the products of our schools, like all Montana resources, are exported to other states.

We must have more and better employment opportunities to assure young Montanans the right to live and earn a decent income in this state. This can be done only if we get our house in order at all levels of government so that priorities can be established and given meaning.

Only two or perhaps three generations are represented in this Assembly.

There will be many more generations of Montanans.

It is our responsibility to hold the unique environment of this state in trust for our children and their children.

We will be the greatest fools in the history of Montana if we fail to provide for the preservation of our air, water and land.

Time will not excuse us because we didn't know. We are all aware of the environmental destruction that has occurred in other parts of the country. The nation's rivers are becoming a continental sewage system. City skies are hung with acrid shrouds of smog. And natural landscapes have been torn up and replaced by stark concrete horizons.

We cannot allow this to happen in Montana.

To protect the environment, I recommend we appropriate funds to sufficiently staff our air and water pollution control agencies.

I also believe it is essential to improve the quality of water through the construction of secondary sewage facilities in many Montana communities. I recommend we set aside four million dollars as the state share of construction costs. This total will allow us to take full advantage of available federal matching funds.

I strongly urge enactment of the water pollution control legislation developed by the Council on Natural Resources.

We cannot allow the creation of a lunar landscape in eastern Montana as the rich mineral resources of that area are developed. I, therefore, strongly urge the enactment of legislation to assure adequate reclamation.

Effective planning is the first step toward a better future.

Presently, Montana is experiencing haphazard subdivision and commercial development. This is perhaps the most severe threat to our environment.

Sound planning and supportive laws are the only means of preventing the cancerous growth of rural slums and the subsequent environmental problems that have occurred in other parts of the country.

Montana has been bypassed by massive industrialization and the environmental stupidity of that movement.

Most of our natural environment has been protected to this point by good fortune.

We must begin now to protect that environment with good legislation and good administration.

I do not believe we can adjourn this Legislative Session in good conscience knowing the environment will be vulnerable to exploitation for another two years.

Quality of life is more than the great outdoors and the natural environment. It is also social and economic environment. It is employment, opportunity, police protection, hospitals, governmental services and the entire life experience in Montana.

The environmental movement is entirely just and essential.

We cannot, however, sacrifice social and economic progress in Montana to the ideals of environmental totalitarians.

Neither can we sacrifice the environment to uncontrolled industrialism and exploitation.

If extreme environmentalists were to make the decisions, Montana would revert to wilderness.

If irresponsible industrialists were to make the decisions, Montana would become a wasteland.

Neither course is acceptable.

We must stake out the common ground.

Environmental protection and economic development, as I have so often said, are not mutually exclusive.

I believe a sound economy can exist in a quality environment. This is the essential compromise upon which the future depends. And I believe reasonable men, good laws and effective government can strike this balance.

Let us begin now to make Montana a great place to live and work.

Efficiency—education—and environment . . . this is not a slogan nor rhetorical trick. It is a reasonable program to enable state government to do what is necessary in a time when not everything is possible.

Thank you.

Benediction was given by the Chaplain.

The Governor having been escorted from the chamber, it was moved by Senator Dzivi that 1,000 copies of the Governor's message be printed and distributed to the Legislators, state officials and others. Motion carried.

It was moved by Senator Dzivi that the joint assembly be dissolved and that the members of the Senate return to the Senate Chambers.

The joint assembly having been dissolved, the House resumed business at 2:00 p.m. Mr. Speaker in the Chair.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

January 18, 1971

Honorable Thomas L. Judge
President of the Senate
Capitol Building
Helena, Montana 59601

Honorable James P. Lucas
Speaker of the House
Capitol Building
Helena, Montana 59601

Gentlemen:

I have this date requested introduction of legislation to create a position management and classification system to be developed by the Department of Administration, and implemented in state agencies.

I believe this system will be essential if we are to improve management procedures in state government.

The proposed bill will enable the Department of Administration to classify positions in the state service in regard to similarity of duties, responsibilities and complexity of work. It will establish similar qualifications and equitable salary levels for positions in each class.

In addition, the bill will benefit public employees by eliminating fixed percentage limitations on salary increases.

Presently, there is a five per cent limitation on salary increases for public employees. I believe this limitation has an adverse effect on the performance of state government personnel. It diminishes initiative and morale by eliminating appropriate salary increases as a reward for good performance. It subsidizes mediocrity by providing automatic increases with little regard for performance. It punishes employees in the lower salaried positions, because their standard percentage increases do not amount to much in dollars.

The proposed position management and classification system is consistent with the balanced budget program I have submitted. Department appropriations for personnel services will be established by the legislature and controlled by the Department of Administration.

Salary increases will be recommended by department heads on the basis of performance and approved by the Department of Administration.

I strongly urge passage of this bill.

Sincerely,

FORREST H. ANDERSON
Governor

All bonds issued for a longer term than five (5) years may be redeemable at the option of the city or town five (5) years from the date of issue and on any interest payments

A RESOLUTION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA URGING THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION TO CONSIDER THE HARDSHIP UPON THE PEOPLE AND THE STATE OF MONTANA WHEN RULING UPON THE ABANDONMENT OF RAIL LINES IN MONTANA, AND TO HOLD HEARINGS ON SUCH MATTERS IN THE AREA AFFECTED.

WHEREAS, under the Interstate Commerce Act, the Interstate Commerce Commission has jurisdiction over the abandonment of railroad lines in Montana; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the House of Representatives of the State of Montana recognizes that the public interest and convenience of the people of the State of Montana requires adequate railroad service to all points now served by railroads in Montana, and

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 3, 1971

Honorable James P. Lucas
Speaker for the House
State Capitol
Helena, Montana

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I was somewhat amazed to read published reports in the morning newspapers of this date of the intentions of the Chairman of the House Committee on Executive Reorganization to invite the State's Chief Executive to appear before his committee regarding legislative proposals of the bi-partisan Executive Reorganization Commission.

I find no precedent in the annals of Constitutional government for such a request. As you and I understand, there must be a constant vigilance on the part of sincere public servants that the separation of the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government be assured.

Many times, I feel compelled to go directly to the Legislature and appear before the body as a whole to spell out my arguments for and against. However, my experience in the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the government has impressed upon me the need to strictly maintain the separation of powers as stated in the Constitution.

I want you, and all members of the 42nd Assembly, to know I am always available to talk with individuals or groups of legislators about any problems or questions they may have.

The suggestion, however, of a public forum between elected officials of the executive branch of government and members of the Legislature is not consistent with the admonishment contained within the Constitution.

I would appreciate it if you, as Speaker of the House of Representatives, would advise the Chairman to engage in a further study of the provision of the Constitution and reconsider his proposal. Otherwise, I believe the stage is set for an unwholesome precedent in the application of the Constitution to the conduct of state government.

Sincerely,

FORREST H. ANDERSON
Governor

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

February 8, 1971

Mr. Speaker: We, your Committee on Affairs of Cities, having had under consideration House Bill No. 501, respectfully report as follows: That House Bill No. 501 be amended

Cox moved that the House suspend its Rules and consider the amendments read in full. Motion carried.

Be amended on page 1 of the title of the bill, after the word "underground" on line 6, through and including line 7, by striking the material therein in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof the following new material "locations by special improvement districts."

And be further amended on page 1, line 11, through and including page 10, line 12, by striking the material therein in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof the following material: "Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and cited as the "Underground Conversion of Utilities Law".

Section 2. Legislative purpose. The Legislature finds that in many areas of the state, landowners, cities, towns, counties, rural electric co-operatives and public utilities desire to convert existing overhead electric and communication facilities to underground locations by means of special improvement district proceedings. The legislature hereby declares that a public purpose will be served by providing a procedure to accomplish such conversion and that it is in the public interest to provide for such conversion by proceedings taken pursuant to this chapter, whether such areas be within the limits of a city or town or within a county.

Section 3. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following words and phrases and any variations thereof shall have the following meaning:

"Communication service" means the transmission of intelligence by electrical means, including, but not limited to, telephone, telegraph, messenger-call, clock, police, fire alarm and traffic control circuits or the transmission of standard television or radio signals.

"Electrical service" means the distribution of electricity for heat, light or power.

"Convert" or "conversion" means the removal of all or any part of any existing overhead electric or communications facilities and the replacement thereof with underground electric or communication facilities constructed at the same or different locations.

"Electric or communication facilities" means any works or improvements used or useful in providing electric or communication service, including, but not limited to, poles, supports, tunnels, manholes, vaults, conduits, pipes, wires, conductors, guys, stubs, platforms, crossarms, braces, transformers, insulators, cut-outs, switches, capacitors, meters, communication circuits, appliances, attachments, and appurtenances. "Electric facilities" shall not include any facilities used or intended to be used for the transmission of electric energy at nominal voltages in excess of twenty-five thousand (25,000) volts.

"Overhead electric or communication facilities" means electric or communication facilities located, in whole or in part, above the surface of the ground.

"Underground electric or communication facilities" means electric or communication facilities located, in whole or in part, beneath the surface of the ground.

"Public utility" means any public or private person, corporation or cooperative that provides electric or communication service to the public by means of electric or communication facilities and shall include any special improvement district that provides electric or communication service to the public by means of electric or communication facilities.

"Governing body" means the board of county commissioners or city council, as may be appropriate, depending on whether the special improvement district is located in a county or within a city or town.

"Ordinance" means resolution where the governing body properly acts by resolution and vice versa.

Section 4. Powers conferred. The governing body of every county is hereby authorized and empowered to create special improvement districts under this chapter within the unincorporated portion of such county, and the governing body of every city and town is hereby authorized and empowered to create special improvement districts under this chapter within its territorial limits. Said special improvement districts shall provide for the conversion of existing overhead electrical and communication facilities to underground locations and the construction, reconstruction or relocation of any other electric or communication facilities which may be incidental thereto, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; provided, however, that any such special improvement district shall include an area having a frontage of not less than one thousand (1,000) feet upon a public street, road, highway or utilities easement along which overhead electric or communication facilities are located.

Section 5. Basis of assessments. Whenever any improvement authorized to be made by any governing body by the terms of this chapter is ordered, the governing body shall provide for the apportionment of the cost and expenses thereof as in their judgment may be fair and equitable in consideration of the benefits accruing to the abutting, adjoining, contiguous and adjacent lots and land and to the lots and lands otherwise benefited and included within the special improvement district formed. Each lot and parcel of land shall be separately assessed for the cost and expenses thereof in proportion to the number of square feet of such lands and lots abutting, adjoining, contiguous and adjacent thereto or included in the special improvement district, and in proportion to the benefits derived to such property by said improvements. The entire cost of the improvements may be assessed against the benefited property as herein provided, or if money for paying part of such cost is available from any other source, the money so available may be so applied and the remaining cost so assessed against the benefited property. The cost and expenses to be assessed, as herein provided for, shall include the cost of improvement, engineering, and clerical service, advertising, cost of inspection, cost of collecting assessments, cost of easements, and interest upon bonds, if issued, and for legal services for preparing proceedings and advising in regard thereto. Fee lands and property of the state or federal government shall not be considered as lands or property benefited by any improvement district and shall not be subject to assessment for the payment of any of the cost or expense of such improvement.

Section 6. Resolution for cost and feasibility study. Any governing body may, on its own initiative or upon a petition signed by at least sixty percent (60%) of the property owners owning at least sixty percent (60%) of the assessable lands of any proposed district requesting the creation of a special improvement district, as provided for in this chapter, pass a resolution at any regular or special meeting declaring that it finds that the special improvement district is in the public interest. The governing body shall make a finding that the formation of the special improvement district, for the purposes set out in this chapter, will promote the public convenience, necessity and welfare. The resolution shall state that the costs and expenses will be levied and assessed upon the property benefited and further request that each public utility serving such area by overhead electric or communication facilities shall, within one hundred twenty (120) days after the receipt of the resolution, make a study of the cost of conversion of its facilities in such area to underground service. The report of said study shall be provided to the governing body and made available for inspection in the office of the governing body and each public utility. The resolution of the governing body shall require that each public utility be provided with the name and address of the owner of each parcel or lot within the proposed improvement district, if known, and if not known, the description of the property and such other matters as may be required by the public utilities in order to perform the work involved in the cost study. The resolution shall further state the area in square feet of each lot or parcel within the proposed conversion service area.

Section 7. Costs and feasibility report. The public utility report shall set forth an estimate of the total underground conversion costs and shall also indicate the costs of underground conversion of facilities of the public utility located within the boundaries of the various parcels or lots then receiving service. The report shall also contain the public utility's recommendations concerning the feasibility of the project for the district proposed insofar as the physical characteristics of the district are concerned. The report shall make recommendations by the public utility concerning inclusion or exclusion of areas within the district or immediately adjacent to the district. The governing body shall give careful consideration to the public utility's recommendations concerning feasibility, recognizing their expertise in this area, and may amend the boundaries of the proposed improvement district, provided that the costs and feasibility report of the public utility contains a cost figure on the district as amended, or it may request a new cost and feasibility report from the public utility concerned on the basis of the amended district. Should a delay result in a significant increase of the estimated conversion costs, new hearings shall be held on the creation of the district. In the event an increase of ten percent (10%) or less results from delay, only the hearing on the assessments need be held again.

Section 8. Resolution declaring intention to create district. On the filing with the clerk of any governing body of the cost and feasibility report by the public utility, as hereinbefore provided, and after considering the same, the governing body may, at any regular or special meeting, pass a resolution declaring its intention to create a special improvement district. The resolution shall state that the costs and expenses of the district created are, except as otherwise provided for, to be levied and assessed upon the abutting, adjoining, and adjacent lots and land along or upon which improvements are to be made, and upon lots and lands benefited by such improvements and included in the special improvement district created; that it is the intention of the governing body to make such improvement which will promote public convenience, necessity and welfare; and shall further state the area and boundaries of the proposed improvement district, the character of the proposed improvement, the estimated total cost of the same, and the intention of the governing body to hold a hearing on the proposed improvement.

Section 9. Contents of notice of resolution and hearing on protests. Following the passage of the resolution in Section 8, the governing body shall cause notice of the resolution and a hearing on any protests to the proposed improvement to be given in the manner provided in Section 10. Such notice shall: (1) Declare that the governing body has passed a resolution of intention to create a special improvement district. (2) Describe the boundaries or area of the district with sufficient particularity to permit each owner of real property therein to ascertain that his property lies in the district. (3) Describe in a general way the proposed improvement, specifying the streets or property along which it will be made and the nature of the benefits to the property within the district. (4) State the estimated cost as determined from the cost and feasibility report, and the estimated cost of engineering, clerical service, easements, advertising, inspection, collection of assessments, interest upon bonds, and legal services for preparing proceedings and advising in regard thereto, if applicable. (5) State that it is proposed to assess the real property in the district to pay all of the cost of the improvement according to the square footage of and the benefits to be derived by each tract, block, lot and parcel of land within the district. (6) State the time and place at which the governing body will hear and pass upon all protests that may be made against the making of such improvements, or the creation of such district or the benefits to be derived by the real property in the district. (7) State that all property owners liable to be assessed for such work and desiring to make a protest may submit, in writing, such protest to the governing body by a specified date not less than fifteen (15) days from the first day of publication of such notice.

Section 10. Notice of public hearing on proposed improvement. Notice shall be published in full five (5) times in a daily newspaper or once in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in the county, city or town in which said district is located. A copy of such notice shall be mailed by the governing body to each owner of land within the proposed district whose property will be assessed for the cost of the improvement. The address to be used for said purpose shall be that last appearing on the real property assessment rolls of the county wherein said property is located. Mailed notices and the published notice shall state where a copy of the resolution will be available for inspection by any interested parties.

Section 11. Protests against proposed work and areas to be included in the district. At any time within the time specified in the notice, any owner of property liable to be assessed for said work may make written protest against the making of such improvements, or the creation of such district or the benefits to be derived by the real property in the district. Protests in writing must be delivered to the clerk of the governing body not later than 5:00 p.m., of the last day within said period, and said clerk shall endorse thereon the date and hour of its receipt by him.

Section 12. Public hearing on creation of special improvement district. At the time and place specified in the notice, the governing body shall meet and shall proceed to hear and pass upon all protests. Such hearing may be adjourned from time to time to a fixed future time and place. If at any time during the hearings it shall appear to the governing body that changes in the proposed improvements or the proposed district should be made which, after consultation with the public utility concerned, appear to affect either the cost or feasibility of the improvement, the hearing shall be adjourned to a fixed time and place and a new cost and feasibility report prepared on the basis of the contemplated changes. If additional areas are added, notice and an opportunity to protest shall again be given on the basis of such changes.

If the protests against the making of the improvement are received from more than forty percent (40%) of the property owners owning more than forty percent (40%) of the property in the proposed special improvement district, the district and project shall be abandoned. The same or any substantially similar special improvement district may not be renewed at any time within one (1) year. In determining whether or not sufficient protests have been filed to prevent further proceedings, property owned by a county, city or town shall be considered to the same effect as other property in the district.

The governing body shall, after considering matters brought forth at the hearing, either abandon the district and project or adopt an ordinance establishing the district and authorizing the project. Such ordinance shall be published in the manner provided in Section 10, but need not be mailed.

If an ordinance be adopted establishing the district, such ordinance shall finally and conclusively establish the regular organization of the district against all persons, unless an action attacking the validity of the organization shall be commenced in a court of competent jurisdiction within thirty (30) days after the adoption of such ordinance. Such action shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13. Thereafter, any such action shall be perpetually barred and the organization of said district shall not be directly or collaterally questioned in any suit, action or proceedings.

Section 13. Waiver of objections. Every person who has real property within the boundaries of the district and who fails to submit a written protest in accordance with Section 11, or appear and give testimony at the public hearing, shall be deemed to have waived any objections to the creation of the district, the making of the improvements and the inclusion of his property within the district. Such waivers shall not, however, preclude his right to object to the amount of the assessment at the hearing for which provision is made in Section 17.

Section 14. Proposed assessment list. Following creation of the special improvement district, the governing body shall cause to be prepared an assessment list detailing the total amount to be assessed, the specific properties assessed, and the amount of assessment on each piece of property.

Section 15. Proposed assessments ordinance. After the preparation of the proposed assessment list, the governing body shall cause to be prepared for adoption at the hearing hereinafter provided for, an ordinance declaring the entire cost of the improvement, including the cost of construction as determined from Section 26, and all legal and fiscal fees and costs, the cost of the publication of notices and all other costs properly incident to the construction of the improvement and the financing thereof. Such ordinance shall specify what share, if any, of the total cost is payable from sources other than the imposition of assessments and shall incorporate the proposed assessment list provided for in Section 14. Such ordinance shall specify the terms of installment payments, if said improvement is to be financed over a period of time.

Section 16. Notice of public hearing on proposed assessments. After the preparation of the aforesaid ordinance, notice of a public hearing on the proposed assessments shall be given. Such notice shall be published one (1) time in a newspaper in which the first notice of hearing was published at least twenty (20) days before the date fixed for the hearing and shall be mailed by the governing body not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the date fixed for such hearing to each owner of real property whose property will be assessed for part of the cost of the improvement at the addresses appearing on the last completed real property assessment rolls of the county wherein said affected property is located.

1. Each notice shall state that at the specified time and place, the governing body will hold a public hearing upon the proposed assessments and shall state that any owner of any property to be assessed pursuant to the ordinance will be heard on the question of whether his property will be benefited by the proposed improvement to the amount of the proposed assessment against his property and whether the amount assessed against his property constitutes more than his proper proportional share of the total cost of the improvement.

2. The notice shall further state where a copy of the ordinance proposed to be adopted levying the assessments against all real property in the district will be on file for public inspection, and that, subject to such changes and corrections therein as may be made by the governing body, it is proposed to adopt the ordinance at the conclusion of the hearing.

3. The published notice shall describe the boundaries or area of the district with sufficient particularity to permit each owner of real property therein to ascertain that his property lies in the district. The mailed notice may refer to the district by name and date of creation and shall state the amount of the assessment proposed to be levied against the real property of the person to whom the notice is mailed and the terms of installment financing, if any. In the absence of fraud, the failure to mail any notice does not invalidate any assessment or any proceeding under this chapter.

Section 17. Public hearing on proposed assessment ordinance. On the date and at the time and place specified in the aforementioned notice, the governing body shall, in open and public session, hear all arguments relating to the benefits accruing to any tract, block, lot or parcel of land therein and the amounts proposed to be assessed against any such tract, block, lot or parcel. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time to a fixed future time and place. After the hearing has been concluded and all persons desiring to be heard have been heard, the governing body shall consider the arguments presented and shall make such corrections in the assessment list as may be considered just and equitable. Such corrections may eliminate, may increase, or may decrease the amount of the assessment proposed to be levied against any piece of property. However, no increase of any proposed assessment shall be valid unless the owner of the property is given notice and an opportunity to be heard. After such corrections have been made, the governing body shall make a specific finding that no proposed assessment on the corrected assessment list exceeds the benefit to be derived from the improvement by the piece of property to be so assessed and that no piece of property so listed will bear more than its proper proportionate share of the cost of such improvement.

Section 18. Adoption of the assessment ordinance. After the public hearing has been concluded and all corrections made to the assessment list, the governing body shall proceed to adopt the assessment ordinance. The adoption of such ordinance shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that the property assessed is benefited in the amount of the assessments, and that such assessments have been lawfully levied.

Section 19. Payment of assessment. All assessments shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days after the final publication of the assessing ordinance without demand; provided, that all such assessments may be paid, at the election of the owner, in installments, with interest, as provided in Section 20.

Section 20. Installment payments. Failure to pay the whole assessment within said period of thirty (30) days shall be conclusively considered and held to be an election on the part of all persons interested, whether under disability or otherwise, to pay in installments. In case of such election, the assessment shall be payable at such times as is provided by the governing body, not to exceed twenty (20) years, and shall bear interest in all cases on the unpaid principal at the rate not exceeding eight percent (8%) per annum. The number of installments, the time of payments, and the rate of interest shall be determined by the governing body and set forth in the assessing ordinance.

Section 21. Collection of installments—failure to pay installments. Installments shall be collected in the manner and at the time prescribed. When one (1) payment becomes delinquent, all payments shall, at the option of the governing body by appropriate resolutions duly adopted, become delinquent. Delinquent installments shall be subject to the same interest and penalties as are now or hereafter provided for delinquent taxes by the laws of the State of Montana, and property subject to delinquent installments shall be sold as other property is sold for taxes.

Section 22. Assessment lien. All assessments made in pursuance of this chapter, together with all interest thereon and penalties for default in payment thereof, and all costs in collecting the same, shall constitute, from the date of the final publication of the assessing ordinance, a lien in the several amounts assessed against each lot or tract of land, and shall have priority over all other liens excepting general tax liens. No sale of property for the nonpayment of taxes or other special assessments shall extinguish the lien of other than the taxes or special assessments for the nonpayment of which such sale is had.

Section 23. Advance payment of assessment installations. The governing body may, in the ordinance levying the assessments, provide that all unpaid installments of assessments levied against any piece of property may (but only in their entirety) be paid prior to the dates on which they become due, if the property owner paying such installments pays all interest which would accrue thereon to the next succeeding date on which interest is payable on the bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of the assessments. In addition, the property owner must pay such additional amount of interest as in the opinion of the governing body is necessary to assure the availability of money fully sufficient to pay interest on the bonds as interest becomes due, and any redemption premiums which may become payable on the bonds in order to retire, in advance of maturity, bonds in a sufficient amount to utilize the assessments thus paid in advance. If no bonds have been issued, then all unpaid installments of assessments levied against any piece of property may be paid in their entirety prior to the date upon which they become due by paying the principal amount due and the interest accrued thereon to the date of payment.

Section 24. Issuance of bonds. After the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of the adoption of the ordinance levying the assessments, the governing body may issue negotiable interest-bearing bonds in a principal amount not exceeding the unpaid balance of the assessments levied. The bonds shall bear interest at not exceeding eight percent (8%) per annum, payable as specified by the governing body over a period not exceeding twenty (20) years. The bonds shall be of such form and denomination and shall be payable in principal and interest at such times and place, and shall be sold, authorized and issued in such manner as the governing body may determine. The bonds shall be dated no earlier than the date on which the special assessment shall begin to bear interest, and shall be secured by and payable from the levy and collection of the special assessments in anticipation of the collection of which they are issued. Any premium received on the sale of the bonds may be applied as other bond proceeds, or if not so applied, the same shall be placed in the fund for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds.

The bonds shall be signed by a member of the governing body designated by the governing body and shall be countersigned by the appropriate treasurer with the corporate seal thereto affixed as appropriate and attested to by the clerk of the governing body. Interest may be evidenced by interest coupons attached to such bonds and signed by a facsimile signature of one of the individuals who signed the bond.

Section 25. No special assessment levied under this chapter shall be declared void, nor shall any such assessment or part thereof be set aside in consequence of any error or irregularity permitted or appearing in any of the proceedings under this chapter, but any party feeling aggrieved by any such special assessment or proceeding may bring a civil action to cause such grievance to be adjudicated if such action is commenced prior to the expiration of the period specified in this section. The burden of proof to show that such special assessment or part thereof is invalid, inequitable or unjust shall rest upon the party who brings such suit. Every person whose property is subject to such special assessment and who fails to appear during the public hearings on said assessments to raise his objection to such tax shall be deemed to have waived all objections to such levy except the objections that the governing body lacks jurisdiction to levy such tax.

For a period of thirty (30) days after the governing body has adopted the assessment ordinance, any taxpayer in the district shall have the right to institute litigation for the purpose of questioning or attacking the proceedings pursuant to which the assessments have been authorized. Whenever any ordinance authorizing the issuance of any bonds pursuant to the improvement contemplated shall have been adopted, such ordinance shall be published once in a newspaper in which the original notice of hearing was published. For a period of thirty (30) days thereafter, any person whose property shall have been assessed and any taxpayer in the district shall have the right to institute litigation for the purpose of questioning or attacking the legality of such bonds. After the expiration of such thirty (30) day period, all proceedings theretofore had by the governing body, the bonds to be issued pursuant thereto, and the special assessments from which such bonds are to be paid, shall become incontestable, and no suit attacking or questioning the legality thereof may be instituted in this state, and no court shall have the authority to inquire into such matters.

Section 26. Conversion costs. In determining the conversion costs included in the cost and feasibility report required by Section 7, the public utility shall be entitled to amounts sufficient to repay them for the following, as computed and reflected by the uniform system of accounts approved by the Montana Public Service Commission, Federal Communications Commission, or Federal Power Commission, or in the event the public utility is not subject to regulation by any of the above governmental agencies, by the public utility's system of accounts then in use and in accordance with standard accounting procedures of said public utility.

1. The original costs less depreciation taken of the existing overhead electric and communication facilities to be removed.

2. The estimated costs of removing such overhead electric and communication facilities, less the salvage value of the facilities removed.

3. If the estimated cost of constructing new underground facilities exceeds the estimated cost of constructing new aerial facilities, then the cost difference between the two.

4. The cost of obtaining new easements when technical consideration make it reasonably necessary to utilize easements for the underground facilities different from those used for above ground facilities, or where the pre-existing easements are insufficient for the underground facilities.

Section 27. Maintenance, construction and title to converted facilities. The public utility shall have the duty to maintain, repair, and replace all underground facilities installed pursuant to this act. There shall be no competitive bidding as to the construction of the converted facilities since existing facilities are owned, maintained, and operated by the public utility and the continuity of service of the utility is essential, both of which make construction work by third persons impracticable. Therefore, the public utility concerned shall be responsible for the accomplishment of all construction work and may contract out such of the construction work as it deems desirable. Title to the converted facilities shall be at all times solely and exclusively in the public utility involved, as the public is only purchasing the intangible benefits which come from converted facilities; that is, the removal of the overhead facilities and replacement by underground facilities.

Section 28. Upon completion of the conversion of the overhead electric or communication facilities on public lands and right of way to underground, the public utility shall file a verified statement of the costs of such conversion with the governing body. The governing body shall mail to each landowner a notice stating that:

1. Service from the underground facilities is available;

2. The landowner has sixty (60) days after the date of the mailing of such notice to convert all overhead electric or communication facilities providing service to any structure or improvement located on his lot or parcel to underground service facilities; and

3. After the sixty (60) day period following the date of the mailing of the notice, the governing body will order the public utility to disconnect and remove all overhead electric and communication facilities providing service to any structure or improvement within the area.

Section 29. 1. Any conversion of electric or communication service facilities, including service connections, located on a privately owned lot or parcel shall be made at the expense of the landowner by the public utility owning the facility. The conversion shall be made in accordance with applicable safety rules, codes, regulations, tariffs or ordinances. The public utility shall not be required to convert service lines on property, other than public lands and right of way, until the landowner furnishes to the public utility a permit or easement authorizing the public utility and its employees, agents and contractors to enter upon real property of the landowner for the purpose of performing conversion work thereon.

2. Upon completion of the conversion of overhead electric or communication service facilities on privately owned lots and parcels within a district, the public utility shall file with the governing body a verified statement of the costs of the conversion of such service facilities of each landowner in the district. Promptly thereafter, the governing body shall mail to each landowner a copy of such verified statement, which shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days or as otherwise provided by the public utility.

Section 30. If the owner of any structure or improvement served from the overhead electric or communication service facilities within an underground assessment district does not grant the utility a permit or easement referred to in Section 29 of this chapter, or if such an owner fails to convert to underground service facilities within sixty (60) days after the mailing to him of the notice provided by Section 28 of this chapter, the governing body shall order the public utility to complete the conversion and to disconnect and remove all overhead facilities, including service facilities, providing service to such structure or improvement.

Section 31. Payment of public utility. Upon completion of the conversion contemplated by this chapter, the public utility shall present the governing body with its verified bill for conversion costs as computed pursuant to Section 26, but based upon the actual cost of constructing the underground facility rather than the estimated cost of the facility. In the event the conversion costs are less than the estimated conversion costs, each assessed owner within the improvement district shall receive the benefit, prorated in such form and at such time or times as the governing body may determine. The bill of the public utility shall be paid within thirty (30) days by the governing body from the improvement district funds or such other source as is properly designated by the governing body. In determining the actual cost of constructing the underground facility, the public utility shall use its standard accounting procedures, such as the uniform system of accounts as defined by the Federal Communications Commission, Federal Power Commission, or Montana Public Service Commission, and as is in use at the time of the conversion by the public utility involved.

Section 32. Reinstallation of overhead facilities not permitted. Once removed, no overhead electric or communication facilities shall be installed in a special improvement district for conversion of overhead electric and communication facilities, except as authorized by this chapter.

Section 33. No limitation of Public Service Commission's jurisdiction. Nothing contained in this chapter shall vest any jurisdiction over public utility in the governing body. The Public Service Commission of Montana shall retain all jurisdiction now or hereafter conferred upon it by law.

Section 34. Invalidity of one provision not to affect others—exception.

If any section or provision of this chapter be adjudged unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, such adjudication shall not affect the validity of this chapter as a whole, or of any section or provision hereof, which is not specifically so adjudicated unconstitutional or invalid; provided, however, if any section or provision of this chapter concerning the payment to the public utility shall be adjudged unconstitutional or invalid for any reason in such a way that the payment to the public utility or the creation of the funds for that purpose is adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional, then such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall invalidate this chapter in its entirety and to this end and in this event the provisions of this chapter are declared to be nonseverable.

Section 35. Abatement of construction. If a special improvement district is established pursuant to this chapter, the public utility involved shall not be required to commence conversion until the ordinance, the assessment roll and issuance of bonds have become final and no civil action has been filed or if civil action has been filed, until the decision of the court upon the action has become final and is not subject to further appeal."

And, as so amended, do pass.

East moved that the House suspend its Rules and consider the amendments read at length. Motion carried.

Amend the title, being line 11 of the introduced bill, page 1, following the word "act" by inserting the words "and establishing the Public Employee Relations Board".

Amend pages 1 through 15 by striking all of the material following the enacting clause on page 1 and by inserting in lieu thereof the following material:

"Section 1. Findings and Purpose. The legislature hereby finds and declares that:

(1) the people of this state have a fundamental interest in the development of harmonious and cooperative relationships between government and its employees;

(2) recognition by public employers of the right of public employees to organize and full acceptance of the principle and procedure of full communication between public employers and public employee organizations can alleviate various forms of strife and unrest;

(3) the state has a basic obligation to protect the public by attempting to assure the orderly and uninterrupted operations and functions of government;

(4) the status of public employees neither is, nor can be, completely comparable to that of private employees, in fact or law, because of inherent differences in the employment relationship arising out of the unique fact that the public employer was established by and run for the benefit of all the people and its authority derives not from contract nor the profit motive inherent in the principle of free private enterprise, but from the constitution, statutes, and municipal charters; and

(5) this difference between public and private employment is further reflected in the constraints that bar any abdication or bargaining away by public employers of their continuing legislative discretion and in the fact that constitutional provisions as to contract, property, and due process do not have the same force with respect to the public employer-employee relationship.

It is the purpose of this act to obligate public agencies, public employees, and their representatives to enter into discussions with affirmative willingness to resolve grievances and disputes relating to wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, acting within the framework of laws and charter provisions. It is also the purpose of this act to promote the improvement of employer-employee relations within the various public agencies of the state and its political subdivisions by providing a uniform basis for recognizing the right of public employees to join organizations of their own choice, or to refrain from joining, and be represented by such organizations in their employment relations and dealings with public agencies.

Section 2. Definitions. As used in this act:

(1) "Public employee" means any person employed by any public agency except elected officials, persons directly appointed by the governor, members of any state board or commission who serve the state intermittently, professional employees, professional instructors, teachers, and school administrators, para-professional instructors employed by school boards and districts of this state, those people classed as legislative, judicial, or supervisory public employees and confidential employees including those who are employed in the department which administers this act as part of its responsibilities.

(2) "Supervisory employee" means any individual having authority, in the interest of the employer, (i) to hire, transfer, suspend, lay off, recall, promote, discharge, assign, reward, or discipline other employees, or (ii) responsibly to direct them, or (iii) to adjust their grievances, or (iv) effectively to recommend such action, if in connection with the foregoing the exercise of such authority is not of a merely routine or clerical nature, but requires the use of independent judgment.

(3) "Confidential employee" means one whose functional responsibilities or knowledge in connection with the issues involved in the meet and confer in good faith process would make his membership in the same organization as rank-and-file employees incompatible with his official duties.

(4) "Public agency" or "public employer" means the state of Montana and every governmental subdivision, district, public and quasi-public corporation, public agency and town, city, county, city and county, and municipal corporation, whether incorporated or not and whether chartered or not.

(5) "Governing body" means the legislative body of the public employer or the body possessing legislative powers.

(6) "Representative of the public employer" and "designated representative" means the chief executive officer of the public employer or his designee, except where the governing body provides otherwise.

(7) "Employee organization" means any organization which includes employees of a public agency and which has as one of its primary purposes representing such employees in discussions with that public agency over wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment.

(8) "Recognized employee organization" means an employee organization which has been formally acknowledged by the public agency or certified as representing a majority of the nonsupervisory employees of an appropriate unit.

(9) "Department" means the Montana department of labor and industry.

(10) "Meet and confer in good faith" means the process whereby the chief executive of a public agency, or such representatives as it may designate, and representatives of recognized employee organizations have the mutual obligation personally to meet and confer in order to exchange freely information, opinions, and proposals, to endeavor to reach agreement on matters within the scope of discussions, and to seek by every possible means to implement agreements reached.

(11) "Memorandum of agreement" means a written memorandum of understanding arrived at by the representatives of the public agency and a recognized employee organization(s), which may be presented to the governing body or its statutory representative and to the membership of such organization(s) for appropriate action.

(12) "Mediation" means effort by an impartial third party to assist in reconciling a dispute regarding wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment between representatives of the public agency and the recognized employee organizations through interpretation, suggestion, and advice.

(13) "Fact-finding" means investigation of such a dispute by an individual, panel, or board with the fact finder submitting a report to the parties describing the issues involved. The report may contain recommendations for settlement and may be made public.

(14) "Advisory arbitration" means interpretation of the terms of an existing or a new memorandum of agreement or investigation of disputes by an impartial third party whose decision is not binding upon the parties.

(15) "Voluntary arbitration" means a procedure wherein both parties jointly agree to submit their dispute to an impartial third party whose decision may be final and binding or advisory and non-binding, depending on the nature of the initial agreement.

(16) "Strike" means the failure by concerted action with others to report for duty, the wilful absence from one's position, the stoppage of work, or the abstinence in whole or in part from the full, faithful, and proper performance of the duties of employment, and without the lawful approval of one's superior, or in any manner interfering with the operation of government of the state, the government of any of the political subdivisions thereof, or any authority, commission, board or branch thereof, for the purpose of inducing, influencing, or coercing a change in the conditions or compensation or the rights, privileges, or obligations of employment.

Section 3. Public employee relations board.

(a) There is hereby created as an adjunct to the Montana department of labor and industry a board, to be known as the public employee relations board, which shall consist of five (5) members appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate from persons representative of the public. Not more than three (3) members of the board shall be members of the same political party. Each member shall be appointed for a term of six (6) years, except that two (2) shall be appointed for a term to expire two (2) years following the effective date of this act, two (2) for a term that shall expire four (4) years following the effective date of this act, and one (1) for a term that shall expire six (6) years following the effective date of this act. A member appointed to fill a vacancy shall be appointed for the unexpired term of the member whom he is to succeed.

(b) Members shall hold no other public office or public employment in the state or its political subdivision.

(c) Members of the board, when performing the duties of the board, shall be compensated at the rate of fifty dollars ($50) a day, together with an allowance of actual and necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their responsibilities hereunder.

(d) The director of the Montana department of labor and industry shall be the executive director and the board may appoint such other persons, including but not limited to mediators, members of fact-finding boards, and representatives of employee organizations and public employers to serve as technical advisers to such factfinding boards, as it may from time to time deem necessary for the performance of its functions. The board shall prescribe their duties, fix their compensation, and provide for reimbursement of their expenses within the amounts made available therefor by appropriation.

(e) In addition to the authority provided in other sections, the board may:

(i) Make studies and analyses of, and act as a clearing-house of information relating to conditions of employment of public employees throughout the state.

(ii) Provide technical assistance and training program to assist public employees in their dealings with employee organizations.

(iii) Request from any public agency such assistance, services, and data as will enable the board properly to carry out its functions and powers.

(iv) Establish procedures for the prevention of improper public employer and employee organization practices as provided in section 12 of this act, provided that in the case of a claimed violation of paragraph (5) of subdivision (b) or paragraph (4) of subdivision (c) of such section, procedures shall provide only for an entering of an order directing the public agency or employee organization to meet and confer in good faith. The pendency of proceedings under this paragraph shall not be used as the basis to delay or interfere with determination of representation status pursuant to section 6 of this act or with meeting and conferring. The board shall exercise exclusive nondelegable jurisdiction of the power granted to it by this paragraph.

(v) Establish, after consulting with representatives of employee organizations and of public agencies, panels of qualified persons broadly representative of the public, to be available to serve as mediators, members of fact-finding boards, or arbitrators.

(vi) Hold such hearings and make such inquiries, as it deems necessary, to carry out properly its functions and powers.

(vii) For the purpose of such hearings and inquiries, administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses and documents, take testimony and receive evidence, compel attendance of witnesses and the production of documents by the issuance of subpoenas, and delegate such powers to any member of the board or any person appointed by the board for the performance of its functions. Such subpoenas shall be regulated and enforced under the civil practice law and rules.

(viii) Make, amend, and rescind, from time to time, such rules and regulations, including but not limited to those governing its internal organization and conduct of its affairs, and exercise such other powers, as may be appropriate to effectuate the purposes and provisions of this act.

Section 4. Public employee rights. Public employees shall have the right to form, join, and participate in the activities of employee organizations of their own choosing for the purpose of meeting and conferring with public employers or their designated representatives with respect to grievances and wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment. Public employees also shall have the right to refuse or fail to join or participate in the activities of employee organizations.

Section 5. Public employer rights. Nothing in this act is intended to circumscribe or modify the existing right of a public agency to:

(1) direct the work of its employees;

- (7) determine the methods, means, and personnel by which operations are to be carried on.

Section 6. Recognition of employee organizations.

(a) Public employers shall recognize employee organizations for the purpose of representing their members in dealings with such employees. Employee organizations may establish reasonable provisions for an individual's admission to or dismissal from membership.

(b) Where an employee organization has been certified by the board as representing a majority of the employees in an appropriate unit, or recognized formally, pursuant to the provisions of this act, the public employer shall meet and confer in good faith with such employee organization in the determination of, and the administration of grievance arising under the terms and conditions of employment of their public employees as provided in this act, and may enter into a memorandum of agreement with such employee organization.

(c) When a question concerning the designation of an appropriate unit is raised by a public agency, employee organization, or employees, the public employee relations board, established pursuant to this act, shall, at the request of any of the parties, investigate such question and, after a hearing, rule on the definition of the appropriate unit. In defining the unit, the board shall take into consideration, along with other relevant factors, the principles of efficient administration of government, the existence of a community of interest among employees, the history and extent of employee organization, geographical location, and the recommendations of the parties involved.

(d) Following investigation of a question concerning the representation of employees, the public employee relations board at the request of any of the parties, shall examine such questions and certify to the parties in writing the name(s) of the representative(s) that has been designated. The filing of a petition for the investigation or certification of a representative of employees by any of the parties shall constitute a question within the meaning of this section. In any such investigation, the board may provide for an appropriate hearing, shall determine voting eligibility, and shall take a secret ballot of employees in the appropriate unit involved to ascertain such representatives for the purpose of formal recognition. If the board has certified a formally recognized representative in an appropriate unit, as provided in this section, it shall not be required to consider the matter again for a period of one (1) year, unless it appears that sufficient reason exists. The board may promulgate such rules and regulations as may be appropriate to carry out the provisions of subsections (c) and (d) of this section.

Section 7. Rights accompanying formal recognition.

(a) A public employer shall extend to an employee organization certified or recognized formally, pursuant to this act, the right to represent the employees of the appropriate unit involved in meet and confer proceedings and in the settlement of grievances and the right to unchallenged representation status, consistent with section 6(d), during the twelve (12) months following the date of certification or formal recognition.

Section 8. Procedures for determining the recognition status of local employee organizations.

(a) Every public agency, other than the state and its authorities acting through its governing body, may establish procedures, not inconsistent with the provisions of sections 6 and 7 of this act and after consultation with interested employee organizations and employer representatives, to resolve disputes concerning the recognition status of employee organizations composed of employees of such agency.

(b) In the absence of such procedures, these disputes shall be submitted to the public employee relations board in accordance with section 6 of this act.

Section 9. Scope of memorandum of agreements. The scope of a memorandum of agreement may extend to all matters relating to employment conditions and employer-employee relations, including, but not limited to, wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment except, however, that the scope of a memorandum of agreement shall not include proposals relating to (i) any subject preempted by federal or state law or by municipal charter, (ii) public employee rights defined in section 4 of this act, (iii) public employer rights defined in section 5 of this act, or (iv) the authority and power of any civil service commission, personnel board, personnel agency or its agents established by constitutional provision, statute, charter or special act to conduct and grade merit examinations, and to rate candidates in the order of their relative excellence from which appointments or promotions may be made to positions in the competitive division of the classified service of the public employer served by such civil service commission or personnel board. A memorandum of agreement may contain a grievance procedure culminating in advisory arbitration of unresolved grievances and disputed interpretations of such agreement.

Section 10. Implementation of memoradana of agreement. If agreement is reached by the representative of the public employer and the recognized employee organization, they shall jointly prepare a memorandum of understanding and, within fourteen (14) days, present it to the governing body for determination. The body as soon as practicable, shall consider the memorandum and take appropriate action. If a settlement is reached with an employee organization, the governing body or the representative of the public employer shall implement the settlement in the form of a law, ordinance, resolution, executive order, rule, or regulation, as the case may be. In the absence or upon the failure of dispute resolution procedures contained in agreements resulting in an impasse, either party may request the assistance of the public employee relations board or the board may render such assistance on its own motion, as provided in subdivision (b) of this section.

(b) On the request of either party, or upon the board's own motion, if it determines an impasse exists in meet and confer proceedings between a public employer and formally recognized or certified employee organizations, the board shall aid the parties in effecting a voluntary resolution of the dispute, and appoint a mediator or mediators, representative of the public, from a list of qualified persons maintained by the board.

(c) If the impasse persists ten (10) days after the mediator(s) has been appointed, the board shall appoint a fact-finding board of not more than three (3) members, each representative of the public, from a list of qualified persons maintained by the board. The fact-finding board shall conduct a hearing, may administer oaths, and may request the board to issue subpoenas.

It shall make written findings of facts and recommendations for resolution of the dispute and, not later than twenty (20) days from the day of appointment, shall serve such findings on the public employer and the recognized employee organization. If the dispute continues ten (10) days after the report is submitted to the parties, the report shall be made public.

Proceedings against the party alleged to have committed a prohibited practice shall be commenced by service upon it by the board of a written notice, together with a copy of the charges. The accused party shall have seven (7) days within which to serve a written answer to such charges. The board's hearing shall be held promptly thereafter and at such hearing, the parties shall be permitted to be represented by counsel and to summon witnesses in their behalf. The board may use its rule-making power, as provided in Section 3, to make any other procedural rules it deems necessary to carry on this function.

(b) The board shall state its findings of facts upon all the testimony and shall either dismiss the complaint or determine that a prohibited practice has been or is being committed. If the board finds that the party accused has committed or is committing a prohibited practice, the board shall petition the district court to punish such violation, and shall file in the court the record in the proceedings. Any person aggrieved by a final order of the board granting or denying in whole or in part the relief sought may obtain a review of such order in the district court by filing a complaint praying that the order of the board be modified or set aside, with copy of the complaint filed on the board, and thereupon the aggrieved party shall file in the court the record in the proceedings, certified by the board. Findings of the board as to the facts shall be conclusive unless it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the district court that the findings of fact were not supported by substantial evidence.

Section 14. Local public agency options. This act except for Sections 2, 3(e) (iii), 4, 5, 6, 7, 12 and 13 shall be inapplicable to any public employer, other than the state and its authorities, which, acting through its legislative body, has adopted by local law, ordinance, or resolution its own provisions and procedures which have been submitted to the board by such public employer and as to which there is in effect a determination by the board that such provisions and procedures and the continuing implementation thereof do not derogate the rights granted under this act.

Section 15. Severability. It is the intent of the legislative assembly that if a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.”, and

Mr. Speaker: We, your Committee on Affairs of Cities, having had under consideration House Bill No. 164, respectfully report as follows: That House Bill No. 164 be amended

Cox moved that the House suspend its Rules and consider the amendments read in full. Motion carried.

Be amended on page 1, following line 8, through and including page 14, line 8 by striking the material therein in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof the following material:

Section 1. It is hereby declared as a matter of state policy that:

(1) Sound urban development of this state is essential to this state;

(2) Municipalities are created to provide the governmental services essential for sound urban development and for the protection of health, safety and welfare in areas being intensively used for residential, commercial, industrial, institutional and governmental purposes or in areas undergoing such development;

(3) Municipal boundaries should be extended, in accordance with legislative standards applicable throughout the state, to include such areas and to provide the high quality of governmental services needed therein for the public health, safety, and welfare;

(4) Areas annexed to municipalities in accordance with such uniform legislative standards should receive the services provided by the annexing municipality as soon as possible following annexation.

Section 2. The following terms where used in this act shall have the following meanings, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(1) "Contiguous area" shall mean any area which, at the time annexation procedures are initiated, either abuts directly on the municipal boundary or is separated from the municipal boundary by a street or street right-of-way, a creek or river, the right-of-way of a railroad or other public service corporation, lands owned by the city or some other political subdivision, or lands owned by the state.

(2) "Used for residential purposes" shall mean any lot or tract five (5) acres or less in size on which is constructed a habitable dwelling unit.

Section 3. The governing board of any municipality may extend the corporate limits of such municipality under the procedures set forth in this act.

Section 4. A municipality exercising authority under this act shall make plans for the extension of services to the area proposed to be annexed and shall, prior to the public hearing provided for in section 7 of this act, prepare a report setting forth such plans to provide services to such area. The report shall include:

(1) A map or maps of the municipality and adjacent territory to show the following information:

(i) The present and proposed boundaries of the municipality.

(ii) The present streets, major trunk water mains, sewer interceptors and outfalls and other utility lines, and the proposed extensions of such streets and utility lines as required in paragraph (3) of this section.

(iii) The general land use pattern in the areas to be annexed and proposed and existing zoning where it is available.

(2) A statement setting forth the plans of the municipality for extending to the area to be annexed each major municipal service performed within the municipality at the time of annexation. Specifically, such plans shall:

(i) provide for extending police protection, fire protection, garbage collection, and streets and street maintenance services to the area to be annexed on the date of annexation on substantially the same basis and in the same manner as such services are provided within the rest of the municipality prior to annexation.

(ii) Provide for extension of streets and of major trunk water mains, sewer outfall lines, and other utility services into the area to be annexed, so that when such streets and utility lines are constructed, property owners in the area to be annexed will be able to secure such services, according to the policies in effect in such municipality for extending such services to individual lots or subdivisions.

(iii) If extension of streets and water, sewer or other utility lines into the area to be annexed is necessary, set forth a proposed timetable for construction of such streets and utility lines as soon as possible following the effective date of annexation. In any event, the plans shall call for contracts to be let and construction to begin within twenty-four (24) months following the effective date of annexation.

(iv) Set forth the method under which the municipality plans to finance extension of services into the area to be annexed.

Section 5. An area may be annexed if it meets the following conditions:

(1) It must be adjacent or contiguous to the municipality's boundaries at the time the annexation proceeding is begun with at least one-eighth of the aggregate external boundaries of the area coinciding with the municipal boundary.

(2) No part of the area shall be included within the boundary of another incorporated municipality.

(3) Has a total resident population equal to at least two persons for each acre of land included within its boundaries; or has a total resident population equal to at least one person for each acre of land included within its boundaries, and is subdivided into lots and tracts such that at least sixty percent (60%) of the total acreage consists of lots and tracts five (5) acres or less in size.

(4) Lies between the municipal boundary and an area developed for urban purposes so that the area developed for urban purposes is either not adjacent to the municipal boundary or cannot be served by the municipality without extending services and/or utility lines through such sparsely developed area.

Section 6. In fixing new municipal boundaries, a municipal governing board shall, wherever practical, use natural topographic features, such as ridge lines and streams and creeks as boundaries, and if a street is used as a boundary, include within the municipality land on both sides of the street and such outside boundary may not extend more than two hundred (200) feet beyond the right-of-way of the street.

Section 7. (a) Any municipal governing board desiring to annex territory under the provisions of this act shall first pass a resolution stating the intent of the municipality to consider annexation. Such resolution shall describe the boundaries of the area under consideration and fix a date for a public hearing on the question of annexation, the date for such public hearing to be not less than thirty (30) days and not more than sixty (60) days following passage of the resolution.

(b) The notice of public hearing shall:

(1) Fix the date, hour and place of the public hearing;

(2) Describe clearly the boundaries of the area under consideration;

(3) State that the report required in section 4 of this act will be available at the office of the municipal official at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date of the public hearing.

Such notice shall be given by publication in a newspaper having general circulation in the municipality once a week for at least four (4) successive weeks prior to the date of the hearing. The period from the date of the first publication to the date of the last publication, both dates inclusive, shall be not less than twenty-two (22) days including Sundays, and the date of the last publication shall be not more than seven (7) days preceding the date of public hearing. If there be no such newspaper, the municipality shall post the notice in at least five (5) public places within the municipality and at least five (5) public places in the area to be annexed for thirty (30) days prior to the date of public hearing.

(c) At least fourteen (14) days before the date of the public hearing, the governing board shall approve the report provided for in section 4 of this act, and shall make it available to the public at the office of the municipal official. In addition, the municipality may prepare a summary of the full report for public distribution.

(d) At the public hearing, a representative of the municipality shall first make an explanation of the report required in section 4 of this act. Following such explanation, all persons resident or owning property in the territory described in the notice of public hearing, and all residents of the municipality, shall be given an equal opportunity to be heard.

Section 8. The municipal governing board shall take into consideration facts presented at the public hearing and shall have authority to amend the report required by section 4 of this act, to make changes in the plans for serving the area proposed to be annexed so long as such changes meet the requirements of section 4. At any regular or special meeting held no sooner than seven (7) days following the public hearing and no later than thirty (30) days following such public hearing, the governing board shall have authority to adopt an ordinance extending the corporate limits of the municipality to include all, or such part of the area described in the notice of public hearing, and which the governing board has concluded should be annexed. The ordinance shall:

(1) Contain specific findings showing that the area to be annexed meets the requirements of this act. The external boundaries of the area to be annexed shall be described by metes and bounds. The governing board may refer to boundaries set forth on a map of the area and incorporate same by reference as a part of the ordinance.

(2) A statement of the intent of the municipality to provide services to the area being annexed including a method of financing as set forth in the report. If financing is required to pay for water, storm sewer, sanitary sewer, streets, curbs, sidewalks or other municipal improvement prior to annexation, the area to be annexed must finance the construction of same through a municipal improvement program, and the area to be annexed must either vote for or petition for said improvement.

(3) If the municipality cannot supply all the services or if the area to be annexed does not want or require all the services, namely, water, storm sewer, sanitary sewer, streets, curbs, sidewalks, it will require a petition of fifty-one percent (51%) to stop annexation, to be filed with the city clerk within the forty (40) days of the filing of the report for annexation as described under section 4.

(4) Under no circumstances may the area to be annexed be annexed if the city is unable to provide them with adequate water and sewer, or if in providing them with water and sewer it should deny another portion or portions of the city water and sewer.

(5) If improvements are required and if the municipalities annexing will not provide their installation at no cost to the area to be annexed, annexation may not take place until the day after the approval of a bond issue. The effective date of annexation may be fixed for any date within twenty-four (24) months from the date of passage of the ordinance.

(6) No property within the territory so annexed shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness of such municipality prior to or existing at the date of such annexation.

(7) From and after the effective date of the annexation ordinance, the territory and its citizens and property shall be subject to all laws, ordinances and regulations in force in such municipality and shall be entitled to the same privileges and benefits as other parts of such municipality. The newly annexed territory shall be subject to municipal taxes levied for the fiscal year following the effective date of annexation.

(8) No lands used for agricultural purposes shall be taken within the corporate limits and taxed to any greater rate than other similar agricultural land without the municipality, so long as it is ten (10) acres or more in size and being used for agricultural purposes with one thousand dollars ($1,000) or more dollars income being derived from the sale of agricultural products taken from it.

(9) The municipality shall, for purposes of levying taxes for the fiscal year following the date of annexation, obtain from the county a record of property in the area being annexed. Taxation for the first year shall be prorated on a monthly basis from the date of annexation to the beginning of the municipality's fiscal year.

(10) Lands containing their own self contained fire services and sewage treatment facilities may not be annexed under this act.

Section 9. If a municipality is considering the annexation of two or more areas which are all adjacent to the municipal boundary but are not adjacent to one another, it may undertake simultaneous proceedings under authority of this act for the annexation of such areas.

Section 10. If, not earlier than one (1) year from the effective date of annexation, and not later than twenty-four (24) months from the effective date of annexation, any person owning property in the annexed territory shall believe that the municipality has not followed through on its service plans, adopted under the provisions of this act, such person may apply for a writ of mandamus. Relief may be granted by the district court:

(1) If the municipality has not provided the services set forth in its plan submitted under the provisions of this act in the same manner as such services were provided within the rest of the municipality prior to the effective date of annexation.

(2) If at the time the writ is sought such services set forth in the plan submitted under the provisions of this act are still being provided on substantially the same basis and in the same manner as on the date of annexation of the municipality.

(3) If the plans submitted under the provisions of this act require the construction of streets or utility services, and if contracts for such construction have not yet been let.

(4) If a writ is issued, costs in the action, including a reasonable attorney's fee for such aggrieved person, shall be charged to the municipality.

Section 11. (a) Within thirty (30) days following the passage of an annexation ordinance under authority of this act, any person owning property in the annexed territory who shall believe that he will suffer material injury, by reason of the failure of the municipal governing board to comply with the procedure set forth in this act or to meet the requirements set forth in this act as they apply to his property, may file a petition in the district court of the county in which the municipality is located, seeking review of the action of the governing board.

(b) Such petition shall explicitly state what exceptions are taken to the action of the governing board and what relief the petitioner seeks. Within five (5) days after the petition is filed with the court, the person seeking review shall serve copies of the petition by registered mail, return receipt requested upon the municipality.

(c) Within fifteen (15) days after receipt of the copy of the petition for review, or within such additional time as the court may allow, the municipality shall transmit to the reviewing court:

(1) a transcript of the portions of the municipal journal or minute book in which the procedure for annexation has been set forth; and

(2) a copy of the report setting forth the plans for extending services to the annexed area as required in this act.

(d) If two or more petitions for review are submitted to the court, the court may consolidate all such petitions for review at a single hearing, and the municipality shall be required to submit only one set of minutes and one report as required in this act.

(e) At any time before or during the review proceeding, any petitioner or petitioners may apply to the reviewing court for an order staying the operation of the annexation ordinance pending the outcome of the review. The court may grant or deny the stay in its discretion upon such terms as it deems proper, and it may permit annexation of any part of the area described in the ordinance concerning which no question for review has been raised.

(f) The court shall fix the date for review of annexation proceedings under this act, which review date shall preferably be within thirty (30) days following the last day for receiving petitions to the end that review shall be expeditious and without unnecessary delays. The review shall be conducted by the court without a jury. The court may hear oral arguments and receive written briefs, and may take evidence intended to show either:

- (1) that the statutory procedure was not followed; or
- (2) that the provisions of section 4 were not met; or
- (3) that the provisions of this act have not been met.

(g) The court may affirm the action of the governing board without change, or it may:

(1) Remand the ordinance to the municipal governing board for further proceedings if procedural irregularities are found to have materially prejudiced the substantive rights of any of the petitioners.

(2) Remand the ordinance to the municipal governing board for amendment of the boundaries to conform to the provisions of this act if it finds that the provisions have not been met; but the court cannot remand the ordinance to the municipality, which was not included in the notice of public hearing and not provided for in plans for service.

(3) Remand the report to the municipal governing board for amendment of the plans for providing services to the end that the provisions of this act are satisfied. If any municipality shall fail to take action in accordance with the court's instructions upon remand within three (3) months from receipt of such instructions, the annexation proceeding shall be deemed null and void.

(h) Any party to the review proceedings, including the municipality, may appeal to the supreme court from the final judgment of the lower court under rules of procedure applicable in other civil cases. The appealing party may apply to the lower court for a stay in its final determination, or a stay of the annexation ordinance, whichever shall be appropriate, pending the outcome of the appeal to the higher court; provided, that the lower court may, with the agreement of the municipality, permit annexation to be effective with respect to any part of the area concerning which no appeal is being made and which can be incorporated into the city without regard to any part of the area concerning which an appeal is being made.

(i) If part or all of the area annexed under the terms of an annexation ordinance is the subject of an appeal to the lower or higher court on the effective date of the ordinance, then the ordinance shall be deemed amended to make the effective date with respect to such area the date of the final judgment of the lower or higher court, whichever is appropriate, or the date the municipal governing board completes the action to make the ordinance conform to the court's instructions in the event of remand.

Section 12. Whenever the limits of a municipality are enlarged in accordance with the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the mayor (or other appropriate official) of the municipality to cause an accurate map of such annexed territory, together with a copy of the ordinance duly certified, to be recorded in the office of the county official of the county or counties in which such territory is situated and in the office of the secretary of state or other appropriate state official.

Section 13. Municipalities initiating annexations under the provisions of this act are authorized to make expenditures for surveys required to describe the property under consideration, or for any other purpose necessary to plan for the study and/or annexation of unincorporated territory adjacent to the municipality. In addition, following final passage of the annexation ordinance, the annexing municipality shall have authority to proceed with expenditures for construction of streets, utility lines and other capital facilities and for any other purpose calculated to bring services into the annexed area in a more effective and expeditious manner prior to the effective date of annexation.

Section 14. In determining population and degree of land subdivision for purposes of meeting the requirements of this act, the municipality shall use methods calculated to provide reasonably accurate results. In determining whether the standards of this act have been met or appear to the district court under this act, the reviewing court shall accept the estimates of the municipality:

(1) As to population, if the estimate is based on the number of dwelling units in the area, multiplied by the average family size in such area or in the township or townships of which such area is a part, as determined by the last preceding federal decennial census; or if it is based on a new enumeration carried out under reasonable rules and regulations by the annexing municipality; but the court shall not accept such estimates if the petitioners demonstrate that such estimates are in error in the amount of ten percent (10%) or more.

(2) As to total area if the estimate is based on an actual survey, or on county tax maps or records, or on aerial photographs, or on some other reasonably reliable map used for official purposes by a governmental agency, unless the petitioners on appeal demonstrate that such estimates are in error in the amount of five percent (5%) or more.

(3) As to degree of land subdivision, if the estimates are based on an actual survey, or on county tax maps or records, or on aerial photographs, or on some other reasonably reliable source, unless the petitioners on appeal show that such estimates are in error in the amount of five percent (5%) or more.

Section 15. It is the intent of the legislative assembly that if a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.

Section 16. This act is effective on its passage and approval.

"Section 22. Section 11-3906, R.C.M., 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"11-3906. (a) A municipality shall not approve an urban renewal project for an urban renewal area unless the local governing body has, by resolution, determined such area to be a blighted area and designated such area as appropriate for an urban renewal project. The local governing body shall not approve an urban renewal plan until a comprehensive plan or parts of such plan for an area which would include an urban renewal area for the municipality have been prepared. For this purpose, and other municipal purposes, authority is hereby vested in every municipality to prepare, to adopt, and to revise from time to time, a comprehensive plan or parts thereof for the physical development of the municipality as a whole (giving due regard to the environs and metropolitan surroundings), to establish and maintain a planning commission for such purpose and related municipal planning activities, and to make available and to appropriate necessary funds therefor. A municipality shall not acquire real property for an urban renewal project unless the local governing body has approved the urban renewal project plan in accordance with subsection (d) hereof.

(b) The municipality may itself prepare or cause to be prepared an urban renewal plan, or any person or agency, public or private, may submit such a plan to the municipality. Prior to its approval of an urban renewal project, the local governing body shall submit such plan to the planning commission of the municipality for review and recommendations as to its conformity with the comprehensive plan or parts thereof for the development of the municipality as a whole. The planning commission shall submit its written recommendations with respect to the proposed urban renewal plan to the local governing body within sixty (60) days after receipt of it. Upon receipt of the recommendations of the planning commission, or if no recommendations are received within said sixty (60) days, then without such recommendations, the local governing body may proceed with the hearing on the proposed urban renewal project plan prescribed by subsection (c) hereof.

(c) The local governing body shall hold a public hearing on an urban renewal plan after public notice thereof. Such notice shall be given by publication once each week for two consecutive weeks not less than ten (10) nor more than thirty (30) days prior to the date of the hearing in a newspaper having a general circulation in the urban renewal area of the hearing in a newspaper having a general circulation in the urban renewal area of the municipality and by mailing a notice of such hearing not less than ten (10) days prior to the date of the hearing to the persons whose names appear on the county treasurer's tax roll as the owner or reputed owner of the property, at the address shown on the tax roll. The notice shall describe the time, date, place, and purpose of the hearing, shall generally identify the urban renewal area affected, and shall outline the general scope of the urban renewal plan under consideration.

(d) Following such hearing, the local governing body may approve an urban renewal project if it finds that (1) a workable and feasible plan exists for making available adequate housing for the persons who may be displaced by the project; (2) the urban renewal plan conforms to the comprehensive plan or parts thereof for the municipality as a whole; (3) the urban renewal plan will afford maximum opportunity, consistent with the sound needs of the municipality as a whole, for the rehabilitation or redevelopment of the urban renewal area by private enterprise; and (4) that a sound and adequate financial program exists for the financing of said project.

Provided, that the local governing body must find the urban renewal project area to be blighted area as defined in section 11-3901.

(e) An urban renewal project plan may be modified at any time by the local governing body: Provided, that if modified after the lease or sale by the municipality of real property in the urban renewal project area, such modification shall be subject to such rights at law or in equity as a lessee or purchaser, or his successor or successors in interest may be entitled to assert.

(f) Upon the approval of an urban renewal project by a municipality, the provisions of the urban renewal plan with respect to the future use and building requirements applicable to the property covered by said plan shall be controlling with respect thereto.

(g) If the plan or any subsequent modification thereof involves financing by the issuance of general obligation bonds of the municipality as authorized in section 11-3913, subsection (c), or the financing of water or sewer improvements by the issuance of revenue bonds under the provisions of Title 11, chapter 24, or of sections 11-2217 to 11-2221, inclusive, the question of approving the plan and issuing such bonds shall be submitted to a vote of the [taxpayers] qualified electors of such municipality in accordance with the provisions of sections 11-2303 to 11-2310, inclusive, at the same election and shall be approved by a majority of those [taxpayers] qualified electors voting on such question. Aiding in the planning, undertaking or carrying out of an urban renewal project approved in accordance with this section shall be deemed a single purpose for the issuance of general obligation bonds, and the proceeds of such bonds authorized for any such project may be used to finance the exercise of any and all powers conferred upon the municipality by section 11-3907 which are necessary or proper to complete such project in accordance with the approved plan and any modification thereof duly adopted by the local governing body. Sections 11-2306 and 11-2307 shall not be applicable to the issuance of such bonds.

(h) The municipality may elect to undertake and carry out urban renewal activities on a yearly basis. In such event, the activities shall be included in the yearly budget of the municipality. Such activities need not be limited to contiguous areas; however, such activities shall be confined to the areas as outlined in the urban renewal plan as approved by the municipality in accordance with this act. The yearly activities shall constitute a part of the urban renewal plan and the municipality may elect to undertake certain yearly activities and total urban renewal projects simultaneously. The undertaking of urban renewal activities on a yearly basis shall be designated as a "neighborhood development program" and the financing of such activities shall be approved in accordance with section 11-3906, subsection (g)."

(ii) There is probable cause for belief that particular communications concerning that offense will be obtained through such interception;

(iii) Normal investigative procedures have been tried and have failed or reasonably appear to be unlikely to succeed if tried or to be too dangerous;

(v) The period of time during which such interception is authorized, including a statement as to whether or not the interception shall automatically terminate when the described communication has been first obtained.

(e) An order authorizing the interception of a wire or oral communication shall, upon request of the applicant, direct that a communication common carrier, landlord, custodian, or other person shall furnish the applicant forthwith all information, facilities, or technical assistance necessary to accomplish the interception unobtrusively and with a minimum of interference with the services that such carrier, landlord, custodian, or person is according the person whose communications are to be intercepted. Any communication common carrier, landlord, custodian, or other person furnishing such facilities or technical assistance shall be compensated therefor by the applicant at the prevailing rates.

(f) No order entered under this section may authorize or approve the interception of any wire or oral communication for any period longer than is necessary to achieve the objective of the authorization, nor in any event longer than thirty (30) days. Extensions may be granted, but only upon application for an extension made in accordance with subsection 5(a) of this section and the court making the findings required by subsection 5(c) of this section. The period of extension shall be no longer than the authorizing judge deems necessary to achieve the purposes for which it was granted and in no event for longer than thirty (30) days. Every order and extension thereof shall contain a provision that the authorization to intercept shall be executed as soon as practicable, shall be conducted in such a way as to minimize the interception of communications not otherwise subject to interception under this section, and must terminate upon attainment of the authorized objective, or in any event in thirty (30) days.

(g) Whenever an order authorizing interception is entered pursuant to this section, the order may require reports to be made to the judge who issued the order showing what progress has been made toward achievement of the authorized objective and the need for continued interception. Such reports shall be made at such intervals as the judge may require.

(h) The contents of any wire or oral communication intercepted by any means authorized by this section shall, if possible, be recorded on tape or wire or other comparable device. The recording of the contents of any wire or oral communication under this subsection shall be done in such way as will protect the recording from editing or other alterations. Immediately upon the expiration of the period of the order, or extension thereof, such recordings shall be made available to the judge issuing such order and sealed under his directions. Custody of the recordings shall be wherever the judge orders. They shall not be destroyed except upon an order of the issuing judge and in any event shall be kept for ten years. Duplicate recordings may be made.

(i) Applications made and orders granted under this section shall be sealed by the judge. Custody of the applications and orders shall be wherever the judge directs. Such applications and orders shall be disclosed only upon a showing of good cause before a judge of competent jurisdiction and shall not be destroyed except on order of the issuing judge, and in any event shall be kept for ten (10) years.

(j) Any violation of the provisions of this subsection may be punished as contempt of court by the issuing judge.

(k) Within a reasonable time but not later than ninety (90) days after the termination of the period of an order or extension thereof, the issuing judge shall cause to be served, on the persons named in the order or the application, and such other parties to intercepted communications as the judge may determine in his discretion that is in the interest of justice, an inventory which shall include notice of:

(i) The fact of the entry of the order or the application;

(ii) The date of the entry and the period of authorized interception; and

(iii) The fact that during the period wire or oral communications were or were not intercepted.

(l) The judge, upon the filing of a motion, shall make available to such person or his counsel for inspection those portions of the intercepted communications, applications and order as relate to or might affect such person.

(m) The contents of any intercepted wire or oral communications or evidence derived therefrom shall not be received in evidence or otherwise disclosed in any trial, hearing, or other court proceedings unless each party, not less than ten days before the trial, hearing, or proceeding, has been furnished with a copy of the court order, and accompanying applications, under which the interception was authorized or approved.

(n) Any aggrieved person in any trial, hearing, or proceeding in or before any court of this state may move to suppress the contents of any intercepted wire or oral communication, or evidence derived therefrom on the grounds that:

(i) The communication was unlawfully intercepted;

(ii) The order of authorization under which it was intercepted is insufficient on its face; or

(iii) The interception was not made in conformity with the order of authorization.

(o) Such motion shall be made before the trial, hearing, or proceeding unless there was no opportunity to make such motion or the person was not aware of the grounds of the motion. If the motion is granted, the contents of the intercepted wire or oral communication, or evidence derived therefrom, shall be treated as having been obtained in violation of this section. The judge, upon the filing of such motion by the aggrieved person, shall make available to the aggrieved person or his counsel for inspection the intercepted communication or evidence derived therefrom.

(6) Except as proof in a prosecution for violation of this section, no evidence obtained in violation of this section shall be admissible in any judicial, administrative, legislative or other proceedings.

(7) Activity otherwise authorized under subparagraph (4) shall be prohibited by law enforcement officers or other public agents on a person in custody or on the premises of a public institution when the conversation is with his attorney, religious advisor, or licensed physician.

(8) A person who has in his possession any instrument or equipment under circumstances evincing the purpose to use or employ or allow the same to be used or employed for unlawful purposes under this section, or knowing the same to be so used, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars ($100) or be imprisoned for not more than six (6) months, or both; except it shall not be unlawful for:

(a) A communication common carrier or an officer, agent, or employee of, or a person under contract with a communication common carrier, in the usual course of the communication common carrier's business; or

(b) A person under contract with the government of the United States, a state or a political subdivision thereof, or the State of Montana, or an officer, agent, or employee of the government of the United States, a state or political subdivision thereof, or the State of Montana, to possess any instrument while acting in furtherance of the appropriate activities of the United States, a state or political subdivision thereof, the State of Montana or a communication common carrier.

(9) Any instrument or equipment manufactured, assembled, sold or possessed in violation of this section may be seized and forfeited to the State of Montana after notice, hearing, and judicial determination.

(10) (a) Any law enforcement officer who, by any authorized means and in conformity with this section, has obtained knowledge of the contents of any wire or oral communication, or evidence derived therefrom, may disclose or use such contents or evidence to the extent that such disclosure or use is appropriate to the proper performance of his official duties.

(b) Any person who, by any authorized means and in conformity with this section has obtained knowledge of the contents of any wire or oral communication intercepted in accordance with this section, or other lawful authority, or evidence derived therefrom, may disclose the contents of such communication or evidence while giving testimony under oath or affirmation in any criminal trial, hearing, or proceeding before any grand jury or court.

(c) The contents of any wire or oral communication intercepted in conformity with this section or evidence derived therefrom, may otherwise be disclosed or used only by court order upon a showing of good cause.

(11) (a) Within thirty (30) days after the expiration of an order or an extension under subsection 5, the issuing or denying court shall report to the chief justice of the Montana Supreme Court:

(i) That an order or extension was applied for;

(ii) The kind of order or extension applied for;

(iii) If the order or extension was granted as applied for, was modified, or was denied;

(vi) The identity of the applying law enforcement officer, the agency making the application, and the person authorizing the application; and

(vii) The character and location of the facilities from which and the place where communications were (and were to be) intercepted.

(b) In January of each year the Montana attorney general shall report to the chief justice of the Montana Supreme Court:

(i) The information required by (i) through (vii) of paragraph (a) of this subsection with respect to each application for an order or extension made during the immediately preceding calendar year;

(ii) A general description of the interceptions made under such order or extension, including:

(A) The approximate character and frequency of incriminating communications intercepted;

(B) The approximate character and frequency of other communications intercepted;

(C) The approximate number of persons whose communications were intercepted; and

(D) The approximate character, amount, and cost of the manpower and other resources used in the interceptions;

(iii) The number of arrests resulting from interceptions made under such order or extension;

(iv) The offenses for which the arrests were made;

(v) The number of trials resulting from such interceptions;

(c) Reports made pursuant to the section shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the director of the administration office of the United States courts under Section 2519(3) of Title 18, United States Code.

(12) (a) Subsections 2, 3, 6, 7, and 8 of this section shall be construed to supplement, and not to supersede or otherwise limit, the provisions of Chapter 119 of Title 18, United States Code (relating to wire interception and interception of oral communications).

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 9, 1971

Honorable James P. Lucas
Speaker of the House
Honorable James T. Harrison, Jr.
Majority Leader of the House
Honorable Bill Christiansen
Minority Leader of the House
Capitol Building
Helena, Montana 59601

Gentlemen:

The final disposition of the proposed two per cent retail sales tax measure in the House of Representatives appears to me to have cleared the way for the 42nd Legislature to come to an early agreement on some form of equitable taxation to finance the needs of state government in the next biennium.

In my discussions with you and other leaders of both parties, it is apparent that my tax reform proposal—to eliminate the federal tax paid as a deduction on state taxes and to provide a $20 tax credit in place of the $600 dependent deduction—will not meet with favorable action in the House of Representatives. While I regret there has not been more positive response to this program, I do not propose to remain adamant in my recommendation.

It is my understanding that the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives has before it revenue measures which can provide the Legislature with the means to finance government services adequately for the next two years.

I would hope that the leaders and the members of the majority and minority in the House of Representatives would resolve—now—to begin work on those revenue measures in order that the Senate may have adequate time to consider the legislation and that your obligation can be discharged by the 60th Legislative Day. Delay will only force the 42nd Assembly into an extraordinary session at considerable cost to the taxpayers.

I want you to know I am available, at any time, to discuss all important legislative matters with you.

I trust you will recognize that this letter is intended to effect a spirit of cooperation and trust, not only between the executive and legislative branches of government, but between the members of both political parties.

Sincerely,

FORREST H. ANDERSON
Governor

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Speaker announced that House Bill No. 147 had not been immediately forwarded to the Senate upon its passage as required by the Legislative rules. Subsequent to its passage, but prior to its transmittal to the Senate, a motion to reconsider had been made and passed.

The Speaker therefore ruled that in accordance with said rules the bill would be considered as having been transmitted to the Senate and outside the control of the House of Representatives at the time the motion to reconsider was made. The bill is therefore in the Senate.

The Speaker further ruled that the motion to reconsider would be considered a motion to recall and would likewise be forwarded to the Senate. The Speaker further ruled that all motions concerning said House Bill No. 147 subsequent to the motion to reconsider (recall) were out of order.

The Speaker requested comments or objections upon his rulings. None appeared. The Speaker indicated that the matter would be handled accordingly.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

February 9, 1971

Mr. Speaker: We, your Committee on Environment and Resources, having had under consideration House Bill No. 243, respectfully report as follows: That House Bill No. 243 be amended Lundgren moved that the House suspend its Rules and consider the amendments read in full. Motion carried.

Amend lines 4 through 11 of the Title by striking all material contained in said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following language:

“A bill for an act entitled: ‘An act requiring the licensing of persons engaged in mining exploration and related activities; requiring permits for the conduct of development, mining and related activities; providing for the reclamation of explored, developed, and mined land; providing for the administration and enforcement of said act by the Water Resources Board; and providing for an appeal procedure.’”, and

Be further amended on page 1, line 15 and through and including page 21, line 25 by striking all material contained in said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following material:

Section 1. The extraction of mineral by mining is a basic and essential activity making an important contribution to the economy of the state and the nation. At the same time, proper reclamation of mined land and former exploration areas not brought to mining stage is necessary to prevent undesirable land and surface water conditions detrimental to the general welfare, health, safety ecology, and property rights of the citizens of the state. Mining and exploration for minerals takes place in diverse areas where geological, topographical, climatic, biological and sociological conditions are significantly different, and reclamation specifications must vary accordingly. It is not practical to extract minerals or explore for minerals required by our society without disturbing the surface or subsurface of the earth and without producing waste materials, and the very character of many types of mining operations precludes complete restoration of the land to its original condition. The legislature finds that land reclamation as provided in this act will allow exploration for and mining of valuable minerals while adequately providing for the subsequent beneficial use of the lands to be reclaimed.

Section 2. The purposes of this act are to provide: (i) that the usefulness, productivity and scenic values of all lands and surface waters involved in mining and mining exploration within the boundaries and lawful jurisdiction of the state will receive the greatest reasonable degree of protection and reclamation to beneficial use; (ii) authority for cooperation between private and governmental entities in carrying this act into effect; (iii) for the recognition of the recreational and aesthetic values of land as a benefit to the State of Montana; and (iv) priorities and values to the aesthetics of our landscape, waters and ground cover. Although both the need for and practicability of reclamation will control the type and degree of reclamation in any specific instance, the basic objective will be to establish, on a continuing basis, the vegetative cover, soil stability, water condition and safety condition appropriate to any proposed subsequent use of the area.

Section 3. As used in this act, unless the context indicates otherwise: (1) "Surface mining" shall mean and include all or any part of the process involved in mining of minerals by removing the overburden and mining directly from the mineral deposits thereby exposed, including, but not limited to, open-pit mining of minerals naturally exposed at the surface of the earth, mining by the auger method, and any and all similar methods by which earth or minerals exposed at the surface are removed in the course of mining. Surface mining shall not include the extraction of oil, gas, bentonite, clay, coal, sand, gravel, phosphate rock, or uranium nor excavation or grading conducted for on-site farming, on-site road construction, or other on-site building construction.

(2) "Unit of surface mined area" shall mean and include that area of land and surface water included within an operating permit actually disturbed by surface mining during each twelve-month period of time, beginning at the date of the issuance of the permit, and shall comprise and include the area from which overburden and/or minerals have been removed, the area covered by mining debris, and all additional areas used in surface mining or underground mining operations which, by virtue of such use, are thereafter susceptible to erosion in excess of the surrounding undisturbed portions of land.

(3) "Disturbed land" shall mean and include that area of land or surface water disturbed, beginning at the date of the issuance of the permit, and shall comprise that area from which the overburden, and/or minerals have been removed; tailings ponds, waste dumps, roads, conveyor systems, leach dumps, and all similar excavations or covering resulting from said operation and which has not been previously reclaimed under the reclamation plan.

(4) "Abandonment of surface or underground mining" may be presumed when it is shown that continued operation will not resume.

(5) "Underground mining" shall mean and include all methods of mining other than surface mining.

(6) "Person" shall mean and include any person, corporation, firm, association, partnership or other legal entity engaged in exploration for or development or mining of minerals on or below the surface of the earth.

(7) "Mineral" shall mean and include any ore, rock or substance, other than oil, gas, bentonite, clay, coal, sand, gravel, phosphate rock or uranium, taken from below the surface or from the surface of the earth for the purpose of milling, concentration, refinement, smelting, manufacturing, or other subsequent use or processing or for stockpiling for future usage, refinement or smelting.

(8) "Exploration" shall mean and include all activities conducted on or beneath the surface of lands resulting in material disturbance of the surface for the purpose of determining the presence, location, extent, depth, grade, and economic viability of mineralization in those lands, if any, other than mining for production and economic exploitation, as well as all roads made for the purpose of facilitating exploration.

(9) "Development" shall mean and include all operations between exploration and mining.

(10) "Mining" shall be deemed to have commenced at such time as the operator shall first mine ores or minerals in commercial quantities for sale, beneficiation, refining, or other processing or disposition or shall first take bulk samples for metallurgical testing in excess of aggregate of ten thousand (10,000) short tons.

(11) "Reclamation plan" shall mean and include the operator's written proposal, as required and approved by the board for reclamation of the land that will be disturbed, which proposal shall include to the extent practical at the time of application for a developing or operating permit: (a) a statement of the proposed subsequent use of the land after reclamation;

(b) Plans for surface gradient restoration to a surface suitable for the proposed subsequent use of the land after reclamation is completed, and proposed method of accomplishment;

(c) Manner and type of revegetation or other surface treatment of disturbed areas;

(d) Procedures proposed to avoid foreseeable situations of public nuisance, endangerment of public safety, damage to human life or property, or unnecessary damage to flora and fauna in or adjacent to the area;

(e) Method of disposal of mining debris;

(f) Method of diverting surface waters around the disturbed areas where necessary to prevent pollution of such waters or unnecessary erosion;

(g) Method of reclamation of stream channels and stream banks to control erosion, siltation, and pollution;

(h) Such maps and other supporting documents as may be reasonably required by the director;

(i) A time schedule for reclamation that meets the requirements of Section 9 of this act.

(12) "Vegetative cover" as used in this act shall mean the type of vegetation, grass, shrubs, trees, or any other form of natural cover deemed suitable at time of reclamation.

(13) "Board" shall mean the Montana Water Resources Board, or such state employee or state agency as may succeed to its powers and duties under this act.

(14) "Director" shall mean the director of the Montana Water Resources Board.

Section 4. The board is charged with the responsibility of administering this act. In order to implement its terms and provisions, the board shall from time to time promulgate such rules and regulations as the board shall deem necessary. The board may delegate such powers, duties and functions to its director and staff members as it deems necessary for the performance of its duties as administrator of this act. The board shall employ experienced, qualified persons in the field of mined land reclamation, who for the purpose of this act are hereinafter referred to as supervisors.

Section 5. The board shall have the authority to conduct or authorize investigations, research, experiments and demonstrations in reclamation and to collect and disseminate non-confidential information relating to mining.

Section 6. The board shall cooperate with other governmental and private agencies in this state and other states and agencies of the federal government, and may reasonably compensate them for any services the board requests that they provide. The board may receive federal funds, state funds, and any other funds and, within the limits imposed by the grant, expend them for reclamation of land affected by mining or exploration and for purposes enumerated in Section 9 of this act.

Section 7. (1) Effective sixty (60) days after the date on which the board shall first promulgate its regulations as authorized by Section 4 of this act, no person shall engage in exploration or development in the state without first obtaining an exploration license or development permit from the board to do so, such license or permit to be issued for a period of one (1) year from date of issue and to be renewable from year to year on application therefor filed at any time within thirty (30) days next preceding the expiration of the current license or permit and payment of like fee as required for a new license or permit; provided that the applicant for renewal is not then held by the board to be in violation of any provision of this law.

(2) An exploration license shall be issued to any applicant therefor who shall: (i) pay a fee of five dollars ($5) to the board; (ii) agree to reclaim any surface area damaged by the applicant during exploration operations, all as may be reasonably required by the board, unless the applicant shall have applied for and been issued a development or operating permit for he lands so damaged; and (iii) not be in default of any other reclamation obligation under this law.

(a) Except as hereafter provided, the holder of such licenses shall not be compelled to disclose the area of his exploration operations, except where charged with a delinquency in performing reclamation obligations hereunder.

(b) Upon filing of any certificate of claim location as permitted by federal and state mining laws and regulations, the locator shall provide copies of said certificates to the board.

(3) A development permit shall be issued to any applicant therefor that shall meet the following requirements: (a) Payment of twenty-five dollars ($25) fee to the board;

(b) Submit a description of the area within which development is to be conducted;

(c) Submit a suitable map or aerial photograph showing topographic, cultural and drainage features;

(d) Submit a statement of proposed development methods, i.e., drilling, trenching, etc., and the location of primary support roads and facilities.

(e) Submit an estimate of the acreage expected to be disturbed in the twelve (12) months following issue of the permit, together with a map of the general area of the development operations for a like period. If the board shall, on good cause, consider the operator's estimate of the quantity of surface to be disturbed to be more than twenty percent (20%) below what the board considers correct in the circumstances, it may by order require the operator to increase the amount of his bond accordingly.

(f) Submit a proposed reclamation plan for lands to be disturbed in the next twelve (12) months.

(g) Submission of an affidavit as may be required by the board showing that any lands disturbed by exploration, development, or mining in the State of Montana by applicant within two years prior to the application for said permit is or is in course of being reclaimed in accordance with the provisions of this act; or submission of an affidavit and such supporting documents and evidence as may be required by the board showing that any lands disturbed by exploration, development, or mining by applicant in the State of Montana during the two (2) years prior to the application for said permit will be restored in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(4) Following approval of a development plan, the operator shall be required to file a performance bond in accordance with provisions of this act.

(5) Employees of persons holding a valid license or permit under this act shall be deemed included in and covered by such license or permit.

(6) Upon proper application by the holder of an exploration license or development permit, the board may excuse such holder from reclamation obligations with reference to any specified openings or excavations exposing geological indications or phenomena of especial interest, even though the licensee does not apply or have any intention to apply for development license or operating permit for the land in which such openings or excavations have been made.

Section 8. (1) Effective sixty (60) days after the date on which the board shall first promulgate its regulations as authorized in Section 4 of this act, no person shall engage in mining in the state without first obtaining an operating permit from the board to do so. A separate operating permit shall be required for each mine complex. Any person, prior to receiving an operating permit from the board, must pay the basic permit fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and must submit an application on a form provided by the board, which shall contain the following information and any other pertinent required data by the rules and regulations:

(a) Name and address of the operator and, if a corporation or other business entity, the name and address of its principal officers, partners and the like and its resident agent for service of process, if required by law;

(b) Minerals expected to be mined;

(c) A proposed reclamation plan;

(d) Expected starting date of mining;

(e) A map showing the specific area to be mined and the boundaries of the land which will be disturbed; topographic detail; the location and names of all streams, roads, railroads, and utility lines on or immediately adjacent to the area; location of proposed access roads to be built and the names and addresses of the surface and mineral owners of all lands within the mining area, to the extent known to applicant;

(f) Types of access roads to be built and manner of reclamation of road sites on abandonment;

(g) A plan of mining which will provide, within limits of normal operating procedures of the industry, for completion of mining and associated land disturbances.

Section 9. (a) The reclamation plan shall provide that reclamation activities, particularly those relating to control of erosion, shall, to the extent feasible, be conducted simultaneously with mining and in any case shall be initiated promptly after completion or abandonment of mining on those portions of the mine complex that will not be subject to further disturbance by the mining operation. In the absence of an order by the board providing a longer period, the plan shall provide that reclamation activities shall be completed not more than two (2) years after completion or abandonment of mining on said portion of mine complex.

(b) In the absence of emergency or suddenly threatened or existing catastrophe, an operator may not depart from an approved plan without having previously obtained from the supervisor or director written approval of his proposed change.

(c) Provision shall be made to avoid accumulation of stagnant water in the mined area which may serve as host or breeding ground for mosquitoes or other disease-bearing or noxious insect life.

(d) All final grading shall be made with non-noxious, nonflammable, non-combustible solids unless approval has been granted by the board for a supervised sanitary fill.

(e) Where mining has left an open pit exceeding two (2) acres of surface area, and composition of the floor and/or walls of which pit are likely to cause formation of acid, toxic, or otherwise pollutive solutions (hereinafter "objectionable effluents") on exposure to moisture, the reclamation plan must include provisions which adequately provide for:

(1) Insulation of all faces from moisture of water contact by covering to a depth of two (2) feet or more with material or fill not susceptible itself to generation of such objectionable effluents; or

(2) Processing of any such objectionable effluents in the pit before their being allowed to flow or be pumped out of it to reduce toxic or other objectionable ratios to a level deemed safe to humans and the environment by the board; or

(3) Drainage of any such objectionable effluents to settling or treatment basins wherein the objectionable effluents must be reduced to levels deemed safe by the board before release from the settling basin; or

(4) Absorption and/or evaporation of objectionable effluents in the open pit itself; and

(5) Prevention of entrance into the open pit by persons or livestock lawfully upon adjacent lands by fencing, warning signs, and such other devices as may reasonably be required by the board.

(f) Vegetative cover will be required in the reclamation plan if appropriate to the future use of the land as specified in the reclamation plan.

(g) To the extent practical, the reclamation plan shall provide for the reclamation of all disturbed land. Proposed reclamation need not reclaim the areas to a better condition or different use than that which existed prior to development or mining.

(h) A reclamation plan will be approved by the board if it adequately provides for the accomplishment of the activities heretofore specified.

Section 10. Upon receipt of an application for an operating permit the mining site shall be inspected by a supervisor. Within thirty-five (35) days of receipt of the application and reclamation plan by the board and receipt of the permit fee, the board shall either issue an operating permit to the applicant or return any incomplete or inadequate application to the applicant along with a description of the deficiencies. Failure of the board to so act within that period shall constitute approval of the application and the permit shall be issued promptly thereafter.

The operating permit shall be granted for the period required to mine the land covered by the plan and shall be valid until the surface or underground mining authorized by the permit is completed or abandoned, unless the permit is suspended by the board as provided in this act. The operating permit shall provide that the reclamation plan may be modified by the board, upon proper application of the permittee, after timely notice and opportunity for hearing, at any time during the term of the permit and for any of the following reasons:

(a) To modify the requirements so they will not conflict with existing laws;

(b) The previously adopted reclamation plan is impossible or impracticable to implement and maintain;

(c) The operator and the supervisor mutually agreed, in the field, to temporarily modify the reclamation plan, pending final approval by the board.

When one (1) operator succeeds to the interest of another in any uncompleted mining operation by sale, assignment, lease, or otherwise, the board may release the first operator from the duties imposed upon him by this act as to such operation; provided, that both operators have complied with the requirements of this act and the successor operator assumes the duty of the former operator to complete the reclamation of the land, in which case the board shall transfer the permit to the successor operator upon approval of the successor operator's bond as required under this act.

Section 11. Concurrently with issue of a permit, the board may provide the permittee with a list of corporate sureties acceptable to the board from whom the performance bond hereafter required can be obtained.

Upon receipt of a permit the permittee, other than a public or governmental agency, shall not commence operation until the permittee has deposited with the board an acceptable performance bond on forms prescribed and furnished by the board. This performance bond shall be a corporate surety bond executed in favor of the board by a corporation authorized to do a surety business in the state of Montana and approved by the board. The bond shall be filed and maintained in an amount equal to the estimated cost of completing the reclamation plan for the area to be developed or mined during the next twelve (12) month period and any previously developed or mined area for which a permit has been issued and on which the reclamation has not been satisfactorily completed and approved. The board shall have the authority to determine the amount of the bond that shall be required, and may refuse any bond not deemed adequate. In no case shall the amount of the bond be more than five hundred ($500) dollars per acre of the area above described or fraction thereof.

The bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in this chapter and of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

In lieu of the surety bond required by this section, the permittee may file with the board a cash deposit, negotiable securities acceptable to the board, or an assignment of a savings account in a Montana bank on an assignment form prescribed by the board.

Liability under the bond shall be maintained as long as reclamation is not completed in compliance with the approved reclamation plan unless released prior thereto as hereinafter provided. Liability under the bond may be released only upon written notification from the board. Notification shall be given upon completion of compliance or acceptance by the board of a substitute bond. In no event shall the liability of the permittee or surety exceed the amount of the surety bond required by this section.

A public or governmental agency shall not be required to post a bond under the terms of this chapter.

A blanket performance bond covering two (2) or more operations may be accepted by the board in lieu of separate bonds for each separate operation.

In the event that the board fails to supply the permittee with a list of acceptable corporate sureties as first provided above, permittee's obligation to supply such bond shall be suspended until such list is furnished him and he shall be permitted to continue his operations in the interim without depositing either cash or securities in lieu thereof.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, an applicant for a permit who shall, as part of his application, submit his duly acknowledged certificate that he will not, in the course of his entire operations in the state of Montana, exceed five (5) acres in aggregate of disturbed land unreclaimed, shall not be required to show financial capability to procure a performance bond as required by this section or thereafter to procure a corporate surety bond or make any in lieu deposit with the board therefor. Relief from such surety requirements shall in no wise relieve the permittee from any direct reclamation obligations hereunder. On acceptable showing of hardship on the part of an applicant, the board may relieve any permittee within the classification first described in this paragraph from such technical showings under sections 3 (11) and 8 which the board considers may be waived without injury to the interest of the public.

Section 12. Within thirty (30) days after completion or abandonment of operations on an area under permit or within thirty (30) days after each anniversary date of the permit, whichever is earlier, or at such later date as may be provided by rules and regulations of the board and each thereafter until reclamation is completed and approved, the permittee shall pay the annual fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and shall file a report of activities completed during the preceding year on a form prescribed by the board, which report shall:

- (a) Identify the permittee and the permit number;
- (b) Locate the operation by subdivision, section, township and range, and with relation to the nearest town or other well-known geographic feature;
- (c) Estimate acreage to be newly disturbed by operation in the next twelve (12) month period; and
- (d) Update any maps previously submitted or specifically requested by the board. Such maps will show:
 - (1) The permit area;
 - (2) The unit of disturbed land;
 - (3) The area to be disturbed during the next twelve (12) month period;
 - (4) If completed, the date of completion of operations;
 - (5) If not completed, the additional area estimated to be further disturbed by the operation within the following permit year; and

(6) The date of beginning, amount and current status of reclamation performed during the previous twelve (12) months.

Section 13. Following receipt of the permittee's report, and at any other reasonable time the board may elect, the board shall cause the permit area to be inspected to determine if the permittee has complied with the reclamation plan and the board's rules and regulations.

The permittee shall proceed with reclamation as scheduled in his approved reclamation plan. Following written notice by the board noting deficiencies, the permittee shall commence action within thirty (30) days to rectify these deficiencies and shall diligently proceed until the deficiencies are corrected; provided, that deficiencies that also violate other laws that require earlier rectification shall be corrected in accordance with the applicable time provisions of such laws. The board may extend performance periods referred to in this section and in section 9 of this act, for delays clearly beyond the permittee's control, but only when the permittee is, in the opinion of the board, making every reasonable effort to comply.

Within thirty (30) days after notification by the permittee and when in the judgment of the board reclamation of a unit of disturbed land area is properly completed, the permittee shall be notified in writing and his bond on said area shall be released or decreased proportionately to the acreage included within the bond coverage.

If reclamation of disturbed land is not pursued in accordance with the reclamation plan and the permittee has not commenced action to rectify deficiencies within thirty (30) days after notification by the board, or if reclamation is not properly completed in conformance with the reclamation plan within two (2) years after completion or abandonment of operation on any fraction of the permit area, or such longer period as may have been authorized hereunder, or if, after default by the permittee, the surety either refuses or fails to perform the work to the satisfaction of the board within the time required therefor, the board may, with the staff, equipment and material under its control, or by contract with others, take such actions as are necessary for required reclamation of the disturbed lands. Such work shall be let on the basis of competitive bidding. The board shall keep a record of all necessary expenses incurred in carrying out the work or activity authorized under this section, including a reasonable charge for the services performed by the state's personnel and the state's equipment and materials utilized.

The board shall notify the permittee and his surety by order. The order shall state the amount of necessary expenses incurred by the board in reclaiming the disturbed land and a notice that the amount is due and payable to the board by the permittee and the surety. If the amount specified in the order is not paid within thirty (30) days after receipt of the notice, the attorney general, upon request of the board, shall bring an action on behalf of the state in district court. The surety shall be liable to the state to the extent of the bond.

In addition to the other liabilities imposed by this act, failure to commence action to remedy specific deficiencies in reclamation within thirty (30) days after notification by the board or failure to satisfactorily complete reclamation work on any segment of the permit area within two (2) years, or such longer period as the board may permit on permittee's application therefor, or on the board's own motion, after completion or abandonment of operations on any segment of the permit area shall constitute sufficient grounds for cancellation of a permit or license and refusal to issue another permit or license to the applicant; provided, however, that such action shall not be effected while an appeal is pending from any ruling requiring the same.

Section 14. A permit may be denied for any of the following reasons:

(a) The plan of development, mining, or reclamation conflicts with the state water and air purification standards;

(b) The reclamation plan does not provide an acceptable method for accomplishment of reclamation as required by this act.

A denial of a permit shall be in writing and state the reasons therefor.

Section 15. A permit may be denied and returned to the applicant with a request that the application be resubmitted with a different plan for reclamation. The person making application for a permit may then resubmit to the board a new plan for reclamation.

Section 16. A licensee, permittee or applicant who has been aggrieved by any decision of the board shall have the right of appeal to an appeals board comprised of the following: one (1) member of the fish and game department; two (2) qualified mining engineers to be appointed by the governor, at least one (1) of whom shall not be an employee of the state or any agency or arm thereof; one (1) member from the state department of agriculture; one (1) member of the department of health; and one (1) member from the state department of planning and economic development; and one (1) member from the legal staff of the attorney general.

The appeal shall be instituted by filing a petition with the appeals board within thirty (30) days after the denial of the permit. The petition shall contain a statement of the reasons for which the petitioner is aggrieved, and after reasonable notice the petitioner or his attorney or agent shall be afforded a hearing before the appeals board thereon.

Within fifteen (15) days after the hearing, the appeals board shall notify the petitioner in writing of its decision and the reasons therefor.

Section 17. A licensee, permittee or applicant aggrieved by a final decision of the appeals board is entitled to judicial review under this act. Proceedings for review shall be instituted by filing a petition in a district court within thirty (30) days after service of the final decision of the appeals board. Copies of the petition shall be promptly served upon the appeals board and all parties of record.

The petition shall include a concise statement of the facts upon which jurisdiction and venue are based, a statement of the manner in which the petitioner is aggrieved and the ground or grounds upon which the petitioner contends he is entitled to relief. The petition shall demand the relief to which the petitioner believes he is entitled.

Within thirty (30) days after the service of the petition, or within further time allowed by the court, the appeals board shall transmit to the reviewing court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceeding under review. By stipulation of all parties to the review proceedings, the record may be shortened. A party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for the additional costs. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record.

If, before the date set for hearing, application is made to the court by the appellant for leave to present additional evidence, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that the additional evidence is material and that there were good reasons for failure to present it in the proceeding before the appeals board, the court may order that the additional evidence be taken before the court.

The review shall be conducted by the court without a jury, and shall be confined to the administrative and court record. In cases of alleged irregularities in procedure before the appeals board, not shown in the record, proof thereon may be taken in the court. The court, upon request, shall hear oral argument and receive written briefs.

The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the appeals board as to the weight of evidence on questions of fact. The court may affirm the decision of the appeals board or remand the case for further proceedings. The court may reverse or modify the decision if substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the findings, inferences, conclusions, decisions or proceedings were: (a) in violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;

(b) In excess of the statutory authority of the director, board, or the appeals board;

(c) Made upon unlawful procedure;

(d) Affected by other error of law;

(e) Clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record, including the additional evidence introduced before the court as above provided;

(f) Arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion or clearly unwarranted exercise of discretion; or

(g) Because findings of fact, upon issues essential to the decisions, were not made although requested.

Section 18. An aggrieved party may obtain review of a final judgment of a district court under this act by appeal to the supreme court within sixty (60) days after entry of judgment. Such appeal shall be taken in the manner provided by law for appeals from district courts in civil cases.

Section 19. No provisions of this act shall be applicable to mines or related operations which are actively in operation, or extensions thereof within the same operational complex, nor to any exploration, development or mining work performed prior to the date of first promulgation of the board's rules and regulations pursuant to Section 4 of this act.

Section 20. Any and all information obtained by the board or by the director or his staff by virtue of applications for licenses or permits is confidential between the board and the applicant. Any information obtained by the board or by the director or his staff by virtue of applications for licenses or permits is, however, properly admissible in any hearing conducted by the director, the board, appeals board or in any judicial proceeding to which the director and the applicant are parties. Failure to comply with the secrecy provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) and one (1) year in jail.

Section 21. Persons violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine or not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six (6) months or by both such penalties.

Section 22. This act shall not be applicable to operations on certain federal lands as specified by the board, provided it is first determined by the board that federal law, or regulations issued by the federal agency administering such land, impose controls for reclamation of said lands substantially equal to or greater than those imposed by this act.

Section 23. This act is effective on its passage and approval.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 5

Introduced by Prevost, Eggebrecht, E. Smith, Burnett, Christiansen, Knudsen, Lund, Edland, Gunderson, Zody, Weeding, Bradley, Lien.

A resolution of the House of Representatives of the State of Montana to the Congress of the United States, the Montana congressional delegation, the Interior Committee of the United States Senate, the Interior Committee and the Interior Subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee of the United States House of Representatives requesting the passage of legislation and appropriations supporting the construction of a large magnetohydrodynamics (MHD) pilot power plant to implement the techniques which have been developed through intensive research since 1957.

WHEREAS, magnetohydrodynamics (MHD) power generation would provide new opportunities for utilizing the vast, untouched coal resources of the State of Montana and the northwest region, and

WHEREAS, MHD power generating plants operate without the need for the large amounts of water required by conventional steam and turbine systems, MHD electric power generating plants would offer new opportunities for developing the economic resources of the State of Montana and other areas lacking water needed to sustain conventional generating systems, and

WHEREAS, the MHD method of producing electrical energy would raise the efficiency use of coal from forty percent (40%) by conventional methods to sixty percent (60%), and

WHEREAS, there are present or planned conventional power generating plants in the region to which a MHD pilot plant could be attached for experimental testing as well as switchyard facilities, and

WHEREAS, this more economical method of producing electrical energy is also being advanced by other nations such as Japan, West Germany and Russia where a pilot plant is now nearing completion, and

WHEREAS, the MHD electric generating system eliminates water and air pollution common to conventional steam turbine and nuclear systems and reduces air pollution to a minimum.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the Congress of the United States appropriate funds for the development work leading to the construction, at the earliest possible time, of a MHD pilot plant.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 6

Introduced by Robbins, Asbjornson, Bradley

A resolution of the House of Representatives of the State of Montana requesting that the Legislative Council conduct a study of the need and feasibility of deriving revenue from all tax-exempt property to provide funding in support of fire and police protection provided tax-exempt facilities and report its findings, together with recommendations and any necessary implementing legislation to the Forty-Third Legislative Assembly.

WHEREAS, some city and town property owners are being excessively charged with providing fire and police protection to tax-exempt properties, and

WHEREAS, many communities are unable to provide the necessary fire service because of limitations on permissive tax levies, and

WHEREAS, fire and police protection is a cost that should be borne by all of the properties being protected and not just by the few individual real estate owners, and

WHEREAS, in many instances property owners are penalized with higher fire insurance rates in communities that provide fire protection to tax-exempt properties, and

WHEREAS, the cost of fire protection to these taxed properties exceeds the limit of ability to provide adequate fire control capability for both taxed and non-taxed properties, and

WHEREAS, it is obviously an unfair burden on many taxpayers to carry the cost of a service that is not their responsibility.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the Legislative Council is requested to conduct a study of the need and feasibility of deriving revenue from all tax-exempt property to provide funding in support of fire protection provided tax-exempt facilities and report its findings.
